WALTER CASTOR SLAYS TWO IN GUN BATTLE, THEN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE TO AVOID CAPTURE

ANDRADE IS ARRAIGNED IN BANK'S LOSS

Case of Assistant Cashier Accused of Embezzlement of $32,500 Comes Up in Court and Hearing Set

Motion to Reduce Bail Is Denied By Judge Smith; Attorney Says Charge Is to Prevent Habeas Corpus

Jesse H. Andrade, assistant cashier of the Bank of Italy, was today arraigned before Judge Mortimer Smith on the charge of involving an alleged embezzlement of $32,500 preferred against him yesterday. Andrade's preliminary examination was set by Judge Smith for Tuesday, August 8.

An effort to obtain a reduction of the $50,000 cash bail imposed yesterday by Judge Smith, failed when the court sustained an objection made to Attorney Naus' motion by Prosecuting Attorney Fred Donahue.

Judge Smith explained his refusal to allow a reduction of bail by saying that $50,000 was the amount suggested by the district attorney's office, and that it was customary to follow the suggestions of the county authorities in cases of this kind.

CHARGE SCORED BY DEFENSE ATTORNEY.

Following the arraignment proceedings, Naus issued a statement in which he accused the authorities of having preferred the embezzlement charge against Andrade only as an expedient to avoid having to release him from custody on a habeas corpus writ.

"This charge against Andrade is only preferred to prevent my client's release on a writ of habeas corpus applied for by me," he said, "based on the flimsy evidence, and was only sworn to after I had refused to accede to the request of the district attorney's office to withhold the application for a writ until the matter could be placed before the grand jury. My client is innocent, and will be proved innocent. The attitude taken by the police and the district attorney's office in wishing to have the case placed before the grand jury shows that responsible persons did not wish to swear to the complaint."

DECLARES OTHERS MIGHT FACE JUSTICE.

When Attorney Naus was asked if future developments in the case would involve others, he said: "I would not like to make any statement of that kind at present. It might do an injustice to others, as an injustice has been done to my client."

Investigation by Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen and other police authorities continued today, in connection with the alleged system of defalcations, of which the arrested bank official is accused, by the police and insurance officials.

That Andrade fooled the state bank examiners to the extent of $32,500, and then "slipped up" when he attempted to obtain a new position, was the statement today made by the state bank examiners.

According to these officials, examiners visited the bank on April 4, and reported that Andrade's accounts amounted to $32,500. Andrade is said to have explained that he had sent this amount to the Federal Reserve bank in San Francisco, but that the receipt had not yet come back to him.

ANDRADE ACCUSED OF KIDNAPING FUNDS.

Following the departure of the examiners, it is alleged that Andrade took $32,500 from the bank's cash and sent it to the Federal Reserve bank before the examiners could arrive there to check up on his explanation. This amount, it is declared, appears on the books of the Federal Reserve bank as having been received April 5, a day after Andrade was supposed, according to his story, to have sent it. It is alleged.

According to Vice-President Mount and Captain Petersen, the alleged shortage might have been concealed indefinitely, but for one circumstance. Just before the alleged shortage was discovered on July 13, they assert, Andrade was making plans to leave the bank for a new position with a banking institution near to that in Oakland. It is alleged that it was his attempt to "cover up" the existing shortage in his accounts by reporting the disappearance of $49,600 from a shipment intended for the Federal Reserve Bank, that led to the investigation that resulted in his arrest yesterday.

Actress Arrested

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—Texas Guinan, actress of stage and screen, was arrested here today on a charge of larceny of a mortgaged automobile. She was released in the custody of her attorney pending a hearing Saturday. Her attorney said that the affair was a "purely civil matter in which she disputes the validity of the transaction and the amount of money due."

3 HURT WHEN AUTO OVERTURNS

Six Persons Are Also Injured in Alameda When Car Crowded Off Road.

Mrs. P. Messenger and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clark, addresses unknown, were injured late today when an automobile in which they were riding overturned at Moss and Walsworth avenues.

They were taken to the Fabiola hospital, where their exact injuries have not yet been determined.

The auto, which was being driven by Clark, turned as it was rounding a corner. The three occupants were pinned beneath the wreckage, but were extricated by witnesses.

Five women and one baby were seriously injured last night in an automobile accident at Central and Paru streets, Alameda. The child and three of the women live in Oakland. The accident occurred when a machine driven by Mrs. A. W. Blackstone, 3462 Rhoda avenue, Oakland, drove off the right of way by another machine. The following were injured:

Mrs. A. W. Blackstone, 3462 Rhoda avenue, Oakland; cut and bruised.

Mrs. Dallas Young, 3462 Rhoda avenue, Oakland; severe lacerated wounds of knees and face.

Bessie Fuller, 3435 Rhoda avenue, Oakland; bruises and contusions.

Mrs. H. G. Erlan, 3009 Grove Court, Berkeley; bruises and contusions.

Mrs. J. Mallett, 3009 Grove Court, Berkeley; bruises and contusions of head.

Mrs. Blackstone's 6-months-old daughter severely cut on head.

The 12-day-old baby of Mrs. Young and Jack Erlan, Mrs. Erlan's 4-year-old boy, were also in the car, but were uninjured.

According to Mrs. Blackstone, another machine approached her car from behind, running at a high rate of speed. She was forced to turn out, and in doing so struck a telephone pole. Her machine was demolished and all the occupants thrown out.

They were taken to the Alameda emergency hospital and treated by City Physician Hieronymus, Dr. Sanders and Dr. Stone. They were later removed to their homes.

The accident happened at about 9:30 p.m. The police are looking for the driver of the machine that forced Mrs. Blackstone off the road.

AMERICA TO DEMAND ALL DEBTS PAID

Great Britain's Note Suggesting Cancellation of Whole Inter-Allied Indebtedness Doesn't Change Policy

Lloyd George Explains His Plan Is Misunderstood; All Financial Obligations to Be Met, Says Chancellor

United States: Will make no change in policy toward foreign loans, despite any suggestions by London government.

Great Britain: Has no intention of suggesting cancellation of obligations to U. S.; Lloyd George Says proposal misunderstood.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Great Britain's note to her debtor nations, suggesting cancellation of the whole inter-allied indebtedness, will cause no change in the policy of the United States towards its foreign loans, it was stated officially today at the treasury.

Secretary Mellon was represented as taking the position that the American debt commission must continue negotiations for funding the obligations owed this country without regard to the disposition evidenced by Great Britain to wipe out international war-time indebtedness.

THERE'LL BE NO HITCH IN COLLECTION PLAN

Moreover, Mellon was understood to feel that inasmuch as Great Britain, has officially acknowledged her debts to the United States, and indicated a willingness to liquidate them and had announced the sending of a financial mission in September to discuss arrangements for payment, there should be no hitch in the proceedings.

Also, according to the treasury view, British statesmen in parliament have repeatedly described the American debt as an obligation to be met.

While to a certain extent the British note was regarded by the treasury as making more difficult an already complicated international financial situation, it was not considered as affecting the position of the United States toward foreign debtor nations.

As the note was not addressed to the United States, Mellon was said to hold the view that no official cognizance of its transmission would be taken by this country.

ENGLAND RECOGNIZES DEBT TO UNITED STATES.

LONDON, Aug. 3. (By The Associated Press).—That Great Britain has no intention of suggesting any alteration of her financial obligations to the United States was re-emphasized today by Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, in reviewing the British position on German reparations.

"I wish to make it clear beyond all question of misapprehension," declared Sir Robert, "that we recognize the full our obligations to pay our debts to the United States and we do not mean in any shape or form to evade that obligation."

Out of the $2,016,900,000 indemnity paid by Germany, Great Britain has received only $272,160,000, Home said.

Prime Minister Lloyd George, after having devoted considerable attention to the American criticisms of the Earl of Balfour's note on the war debts question, is understood to have concluded that there has been a serious misunderstanding of its purpose. It is stated that the impression which apparently is widespread in America, that the British government through this note indicated a desire that America should cancel the British debt, is entirely wrong, and Lloyd George is expected to make his position clear in his speech in the House of Commons this afternoon.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Separation of the Rhineland from Germany, with its own parliament and government, and a separate financial regime supervised by the allies, is a part of the scheme of penalties presented to Premier Poincare as representative of the opinion of the French parliament, and which he is known to have taken under consideration.

The scheme which would be put into effect, according to the French plan, is to be put into effect.

England to Have 500 Airplanes For Her Defense

By DAVID M. CHURCH International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Great Britain has decided to provide a home defense air force of 500 airplanes, Premier Lloyd George announced in the House of Commons this afternoon.

It has been decided further to spend an additional $10,000,000 annually to protect England from the air.

Lloyd George said that the increased sums on British aid defenses next year would not prevent the government from reducing the war budget.

Federal Receivership Scheme Gains Favor At Capital; President Has Authority, Government Experts Say

All Strike Indications Point to Battle to Bitter End; Rail Executives Eager to Carry Fight to Decision

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—(By The Associated Press).—Ten thousand shopmen on the Santa Fe who have formed an Association of New Employees, today telegraphed Chairman Hooper of the United States Railroad Labor Board demanding their rights be safeguarded in any settlement of the shopmen's strike. They are entitled, they say, to protection in the seniority rights acquired during the strike.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—(By The Associated Press).—E. J. Mauney of St. Louis, president of the Railway Telegraphers, has sent letters to the heads of the twelve railroad unions not on strike suggesting a meeting to discuss the growing tendency to involve their men in the shopmen's strike, it was learned here today.

By GEORGE H. HOLMES. International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—While the government sat tight today and awaited developments in the railway strike, it became known that the plan of federal receivership of those roads unable to fulfill their duty to the public is steadily gaining favor in high administration quarters.

This plan will be adopted, however, an administration spokesman said, only in the event of a complete breakdown of all efforts to compose the differences between the railroads and their erstwhile employees.

The decision as to when these efforts can be deemed to have collapsed rests with President Harding, who thus far has not given any indication that he considers peace to be hopeless.

The President's advisers have told him that the federal government has every authority under the law to proceed with receiverships because of the railroad's mail contracts. If mails are seriously interfered with the government can declare the roads unable to fulfill their contract and proceed to apply for receiverships.

The receivership plan gained favor, it was learned, on account of the fact that it would be less drastic than other methods and because it could be confined entirely to those roads which were in a bad way.

By JAMES R. KOLBERT. United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—President Harding, exercising his national emergency powers, has the authority to institute receivership proceedings against the railroads and the mines of the country and operate them through federal forces, according to an opinion of his advisers.

Such a procedure, which would amount to seizure of these utilities, is under contemplation and may be put into operation if the situation resulting from the twin strikes becomes much more critical than it is indicated officially.

STRENGTH TEST MAY BE ALLOWED TO CONTINUE.

Whether the administration, its peace overtures having failed, shall pursue a "hands off" policy as long as the public interest is not seriously menaced, and permit the giant twin strikes to be fought out to a finish, was discussed today by Harding with members of his cabinet.

Harding has now no immediate plans for settling either the railroad or coal strikes, and the test of strength may be allowed to go on for a while longer.

INDICATIONS POINT TO BATTLE TO BITTER END.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—(By International News Service).—The strike of railway shopmen lapsed into the "drifting" stage today following the latest attempt by President Harding to bring about a settlement. No signs of peace are evident and so far as known here no important moves are contemplated.

Every indication here today pointed to a battle to the bitter end.

Wilkens Murder Suspect Kills Sleuth and Sister-in-Law; Second Officer Shot

Slayer, Suicide

WALTER CASTOR, suspected murderer of Mrs. Henry Wilkens, who today killed his sister-in-law and a detective, wounded another and then ended his own life.

Walter's Better Off Dead, States Brother in Jail

WALTER CASTOR, accused by the police of being the slayer of Mrs. Wilkens at the behest of her husband, Henry Wilkens, MRS. ROBERT CASTOR—Sneaked by Castor, who killed her of being responsible for the arrival of the police today.

DETECTIVE SERGEANT TIMOTHY BAILEY—Killed by Castor as he attempted to enter the house and arrest him.

THE DYING

DETECTIVE ERNEST GABLE, who is shot through the head. Wholesale Slaughter Occurs in Few Seconds After Detectives Arrive

The wholesale slaughter took place early today when a corps of detectives, acting on information that Walter Castor had returned to the home of his mother, at Twenty-sixth and Kansas streets, rushed the place to apprehend him.

Within a few seconds after their arrival the ambulances were taking away the dead and dying.

The story of the newest chapter on the Wilkens case reads like the story of a dime novel thriller.

The police arrived in a heavy automobile, driven by Detective George Stallard. Immediately the car whizzed up to the house, the detectives leaped from the running board and dashed to their respective places on orders from Detective Sergeant Jeremiah Dinan, who was in charge of the party.

"Castor, Surrender," Sleuths Cry; Shot, Killing Bailey, Is Reply

Police had gone to the Robert Castor home, in answer to a mysterious phone call received early today. When they arrived they found Mrs. Castor hiding in a closet. She admitted Castor had been there, but had left for his mother's home on Kansas street. They immediately surrounded the Kansas street home and sent two officers to the door.

"Come right in," a woman's voice said. Demanding surrender, the officers rushed in. Castor was seen in a room opening off the hall. "Castor, surrender!" one officer shouted.

A shot was the answer and Detective Bailey fell, shot through the head, dying in a few moments.

Tip to Police Believed to Have Come From Suspect's Sister-in-Law

Castor slammed the door and leaped through a window, shooting through the eye and probably fatally wounding Detective Gable as he leaped.

Police were firing at him, but Castor was untouched. Officers then rushed the place and Castor leaped back through the window into the house.

A woman screamed; there was a shot and Mrs. Robert Castor had received the wound from which she died within an hour. Almost immediately there was another shot and police, breaking into the room, found Castor dead—a suicide.

His mother, who was in the house at the time, rushed in and fell prostrate as she saw the havoc her son had wrought.

Police Tip Believed From Sister-in-Law

The police believe that Mrs. Robert Castor was slain by her brother-in-law because she suspected that she had "tipped" his whereabouts off to the police. Whether or not she did must remain a secret because the message to the police was anonymous.

Today's tragedy is one of many that have followed the Castor family. Their history has been written in blood, according to friends acquainted with their life. Eleven years ago Walter Castor Sr., father of the boys accused of Mrs. Wilkens murder, was shot and killed in the ferry building. Castor senior was a policeman.

Brothers Jailed Soon After Wilkens Tragedy

Both Walter and Arthur Castor were arrested directly after the murder of Mrs. Wilkens on Memorial Day and questioned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Another bloody chapter was written here today in the weird Wilkens murder case and in the family history of the Castors connected with the case.

Resultant of the attempt today to arrest Walter Castor, for the murder of Mrs. Anna Wilkens on Memorial Day, three persons are dead, including the murder suspect, and a policeman is dying of wounds sustained in the pistol battle attendant on the arrest.

And the mother of three Castor boys is nearly a maniac, raving wildly while three policemen hold her in a chair.

MICHIGAN PLANS HOT FIGHT ON WET AND DRY ISSUES

Anti-Prohibitionists Combine Strength On Election of Proper Officers.

DETROIT, Aug. 3. (By The Associated Press.)—The wet and dry question is expected to play a leading part in the political dramas that will be enacted in Michigan this year.

Decision of the Michigan division of the National Association Opposed to Prohibition not to submit to the voters next fall a proposed amendment permitting the sale of beer and light wines within the state in the event of the Volstead act's modification, leave this organization free to press its fight in the various congressional, congressional and legislative campaigns, it was indicated.

In announcing submission of a light wine and beer amendment, which would be postponed, at least until the state election in the spring of 1923, Robert Wardell, of Detroit, secretary of the anti-prohibition organization, declared his group would concern itself in every division of the campaign in Michigan.

Girl to Comb U. S. for Father Long Missing

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—With only a tiny photograph to aid in her great determination, Miss May Stapleton from Liverpool, England, 16 years old, has started to comb the United States in an effort to locate her father who has been missing four years.

Finally liberated from Ellis Island after an uncle, of Youngstown, Ohio, had certified that his niece would not become a public charge, Miss Stapleton showed the little locket on a chain around her neck which carries the picture of her missing parent. All efforts to trace him abroad have failed, she said.

"But before I abandon hope and regard my father as only a memory, I want to search America," she said.

Miss Stapleton left two brothers and a sister with her mother in England when she started on her quest.

This year, both in the private and general election.

This announcement closely followed one by the state division of the Anti-Saloon League, that said the drys were busy checking the record of every candidate for public office and would make a flat-footed declaration concerning the league's stand on each candidate.

At that time Wilkens, husband of the dead woman, failed to identify them as the bandits who killed his wife. They were released and Arthur Castor was later rearrested in Eureka, Wilkens also was arrested.

Since the arrest of the younger Castor, the police have been conducting a country-wide search for Walter, who was accused of negotiating with Wilkens to kill Mrs. Wilkens for a certain sum of money estimated by the police at less than $500.

The message today which cost the life of the detective and Mrs. Castor came mysteriously over the telephone.

"Walter Castor is in the house at Twenty-sixth and Kansas," a woman's voice spoke over the line into Captain of Detectives Durcan Matheson's office.

Captain Matheson immediately summoned Detective Sergeant Dinan and the posse was organized.

WILKENS CHARGED THIRD DEGREE.

District Attorney Matthew Brady began taking an active interest in the case on June 28, and acting on an "inside tip" had Wilkens brought to a San Francisco hotel where he was re-questioned for several hours in the hope that he might be able to shed some light on the murder, which he had previously withheld. He persisted in his original story.

Wilkens secured an attorney, Frank J. Murphy, to represent him on July 8, and the lawyer made sensational charges of "third degree" tactics against the district attorney, and demanded that Wilkins either be charged with murder, or let alone.

Wilkens was formally arrested on July 14, and was that day booked on a charge of complicity in his wife's murder. He was arraigned on July 15 before Police Judge Sylvester McAtee. His attorney waived all formalities and insisted on an immediate hearing.

WILKENS REFUSED BAIL ON CHARGE.

The preliminary hearing opened on this date before Police Judge Sylvester McAtee, and Wilkins refused bail.

That night police received word from Red Bluff that a man believed to be Walter Castor, for whom a search was still being made, had been arrested at that place under the name of Collins. This, it was found later, was a mistake. The preliminary examination was continued until July 17.

On July 22, at the conclusion of the hearing, during which Wilkins held to his original story, and Arthur Castor, the prosecution's chief witness, testified that Wilkins had hired himself and his brother to stage the holdup and kill Mrs. Wilkens, the defendant was held to answer to the superior court on a charge of murder, without bail.

During the hearing Wilkins' attorney made sensational charges of "framing" against the district attorney's office, and a confession, signed by Arthur Castor giving in detail the alleged agreement, was produced and affirmed by Castor on the stand.

With the Wilkins case disposed of until the superior court trial of the husband, detectives continued their search for Walter Castor. On July 22 it was announced that it was believed he had come to San Francisco to see a woman.

On July 27, August 20 was set as the date for Wilkins' trial.

Accused of Plot HENRY WILKENS charged with having hired Walter Castor to kill his wife, Anna Wilkens.

Murderer Trapped By Mysterious Tip

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—The state-wide search for Walter Castor for complicity in the killing of Mrs. Anna Wilkens came to a horrible conclusion today and the fugitive trapped in the home of his mother, Mrs. Henry Castor, 1425 Kansas street, killed Sergeant Timothy Bailey, slew his sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Castor, seriously wounded Detective Ernest Gable and is believed to have committed suicide. There is a possibility that Castor was laid low by one of two bullets fired at him by Detective Sergeant Jeremiah Dinan, who headed the posse of officers, but the general belief is that he died from a bullet from his own gun as he found himself trapped.

HERE'S HOW SLAYING SUSPECT WAS TRAPPED

The police received secret information to the effect that Annie Downs the name by which Mrs. Robert Castor is best known, had been seen to go to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Crowley, at No. 2 Carlton Court. A man followed her to the house, according to the police tip. Early today Acting Captain of Detectives Henry Powell detailed Detective Sergeant Jeremiah Dinan and Detective Sergeant Timothy Bailey to go to the Carlton Court house.

They were unable to get in and broke down the door. The Downs woman was found hiding in a closet. She admitted that Walter Castor had been there, but said that he had left for his mother's home some time between midnight and one o'clock this morning. The detectives returned to headquarters and were ordered by Powell to return and get the Downs woman. They went out in the police machine accompanied by Detective Bernard Rich and Ernest Gable with Detective George Stallard driving. They picked up Mrs. Downs and went to the Castor home. The woman admitted them with her key and sat down with Dinan and Bailey, Rich and Gable going to the rear of the house to cut off escape and Stallard keeping watch in front.

Castor, looking out of a window, saw the officers at the back and fired. Gable fell with a bullet in the right forehead, a second shot grazing his hand. Dinan heard the firing and ran to the back through the hallway. Castor, using connecting rooms instead of a hall, came upon Bailey and his sister-in-law and shot and killed both of them. Dinan rushed back in time to find Castor barricaded in another room. He fired through the door and then heard a shot, which was likely the bullet that ended the life of the trapped man.

Chicago Buildings Damaged By Bombs

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE, LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Two buildings upon which it is alleged non-union workmen had been employed, were damaged by bombs here early today. An apartment building in West Sixty-sixth street was bombed and tenants were thrown from their beds. Two persons were slightly injured. The stairway of a recently completed building in Drexel boulevard was damaged by the other bomb.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—France plans to invade Germany and seize and operate the coal and iron mines in the Ruhr Basin if the Berlin government refuses to pay war debts and private claims.

Industries now in the hands of Stinnes, Thyssen and Krupp, all multi-millionaires, will be operated by France until all obligations are met, the French press, outlining Premier Poincare's plan of coercion, announced today.

According to the plan a Rhineland customs barrier against Germany will be set up and German officials replaced by Rhinelanders.

RHINE TERRITORY AUTONOMY PLANNED.

The Rhineland commission, in event the plan is carried out, would call for an election which would give the territory autonomy.

The Petit Parisien states that France is willing to reduce Germany's debt to $12,000,000,000 on condition that Germany accepts definitely and the inter-allied debts are canceled.

The note of Lord Balfour, which informed European allies that they were to be paid off these debts on that England may settle her war obligations with the United States, has played directly into the hands of France, it was believed here.

England has told France that she must pay because the United States wants her money from Great Britain. Now France is in a position to demand that Germany pay.

SLAYING OF WIFE BEGINS LONG SEARCH FOR BANDIT

POLICE TRAILED SUSPECTS AFTER $100 BILL CLEW

Conflicting Circumstances in Story By Wilkens Led to Renewed Probe.

On the night of May 30, this year, Henry Wilkens, 1540 Vallejo street, his wife, Anne, and their two children, Henry, 3, and Helen, 4 years old, were returning by automobile from a week-end camp near Santa Cruz to their home in San Francisco. As their machine reached Nineteenth avenue and Moraga street it was forced to the curb, and three men, ran to the Wilkens automobile. At the point of pistols, Wilkens and his wife were forced to surrender their valuables.

When the leader of the bandits attempted to pull two rings from his wife's fingers, Wilkens resisted, and the holdup man shot Mrs. Wilkens. It was believed the bullet was intended for Wilkens. The woman was taken to a hospital, where she died, and the bandits escaped in their automobile.

Immediately after the murder, police spread a dragnet over the city for the slayers, and witnesses were found who saw the bandit car speeding away from the scene of the murder. These witnesses were J. Gornikel, an attorney, his wife and son.

On June 1 Arthur and Walter Castor were taken into custody by the police and questioned regarding the crime. They were held after a machine they had rented on the night of the shooting had been identified as the bandit car by Gornikel, and had in their possession two $100 bills. Three $100 bills were taken from Wilkens by the bandits. Wilkens was taken to the hall of justice in an effort to identify one of the brothers as his wife's murderer, and positively declared that they were not the men who held him up.

Story of Triple Tragedy As Related by Detective

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Detective Sergeant Jeremiah Dinan, who was in charge of the squad of sleuths attempting the arrest of Walter Castor, was greatly excited after the gun battle, and his story differs somewhat from that pieced together from the various sources of information and from the story told by the other detectives and witnesses to the killing.

By JEREMIAH DINAN

After we got out of the auto, I finally located him and fired two shots through the door. Then he went back again and fired through the window at Gable. I went after him but he doubled back, shot his sister-in-law and then went into the room and killed himself. All this time I have been shouting for help, and a squad of six firemen came from a near-by fire house. Castor had his hand on his gun all the time but he never stayed in one place long enough to get a good shot at him.

Both Castors proved an alibi satisfactory to the police and they were released. On June 2 investigators discovered that on May 8 Mrs. Wilkens had started suit for divorce, and that her complaint contained startling charges against her husband. This was denied by her husband.

On June 10, working with additional information, police, with Wilkens' consent, subjected him to a test by the "lie-detector," a mechanical device invented by a Berkeley policeman and purported to register when a person being interrogated does not tell the truth. He was asked point blank if he knew in advance anything of the holdup, and if he was in any way responsible for his wife's murder. To all such questions he answered no, and an examination of the machine convinced police that his statements were truthful.

On the same date, June 10, police, working on a new theory, began another search for Walter and Arthur Castor.

They were both located in Eureka, June 13, and Arthur was arrested. Walter was not taken into custody by the Eureka authorities, who picked up his brother for the San Francisco department. He was arrested on a bad check charge.

On June 16 Detective Sergeant Charles Maher left San Francisco for Eureka, to return the prisoner to this city for additional questioning in the Wilkens case. Castor was returned here on June 17, and it was reported that, en route, Maher secured a confession. Police refused temporarily to make this public, but promised sensational developments in the case.

FACES SUSPECTS. On June 22, Wilkens, who had been taking his vacation, and recuperating from a nervous breakdown, came to San Francisco and was brought before four men, additional suspects, in the hall of justice. He failed to identify these men. Another police search was begun for Walter Castor, who was not arrested with his brother at Eureka.

PASSENGERS INCREASE. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—A report made by the Southern Pacific company shows that the company's ferryboats carried 12,333, 770 passengers across the bay during the first half of this year. During the week of the Shrine convention the traffic was the heaviest.

Says Husband Kept Girls' Names in Book

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—In a cross-complaint, filed in the local courts by Mrs. Winifred Thomas, who is seeking a divorce from Edwin J. Thomas, a young officer in the merchant marine, she states that her husband had the names of girls in Peru and China and other lands in his address book. Mrs. Thomas was granted an interlocutory decree. Thomas, who had previously sued her for divorce, charging cruelty, was not in court.

Narcotic Dealer and Sellers Are Sentenced

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Judge Frank H. Rudkin yesterday sentenced several violators of the Harrison narcotic law to prison terms. Nine offenders pleaded guilty to violation of the law. Joe T. Yamamoto, said to be one of the principal Japanese illicit narcotic dealers in this State, was given two years at Leavenworth. Henry Lewis, who already has a prison record, was given 18 months in the same institution. Four others were given sentences ranging from one year to five days in the county jail.

Strike Cuts Stock Of Red Cross Shop

The Junior Red Cross Shop, 367 Twelfth street, maintained by the Oakland Parent-Teacher Association as a third partner with the Oakland Board of Education and Alameda County Public Health Center, is suffering from a depleted stock. Heavy demands upon the shoe, clothing and millinery departments during the strike period, has completely sold out the store. An appeal is being made to the public to contribute articles of wearing apparel.

The shop is conducted as a salvage institution. Proceeds from the shop are used in the conduct of nutrition classes in the public schools, and in corrective medical work.

Contributions may be made directly to the shop at 367 Twelfth street.

Mrs. F. L. Burchhalter is representative of Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs on the board of managers of the Junior Shop.

Charge Reduced For Alleged Theft of $4

A charge of grand larceny against Robert E. Low was today reduced to petit larceny on the motion of the prosecuting attorney. The charge was reduced because of lack of evidence. He is alleged to have stolen $4 from the pocket of Alexander Bluman, 3217 Davis street, on July 23, while Bluman was riding on a street car.

Husband Asks Police To Search For Wife

A search of the bay region is being made by the police to locate Mrs. Emily Williams. She has been missing from her home, 5313 Caladras avenue, since Monday evening, according to a report which was made by her husband, Peter E. Williams. The last time that he saw her was when he left home to go to work Monday morning.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS PLAN NEW PLEASURES

"Oh, Elsa, isn't it exciting to be going to High School when school opens again. I feel so grown up." "So do I. I can hardly wait to see what High School will be like. It must be very different from grammar school. We will do all kinds of interesting things." "I should say so. One studies different things and one can belong to clubs and societies and other things. I want to get into a glee club if I can."

"Oh, you can easily enough with that voice. They will be glad to have you. I'll tell you what I want to do in High School. I want to play in the High School orchestra if I am good enough to get in. Are you going to have new clothes to wear to High School?"

"I don't think so. My old ones are about worn out, but mother has been ill and she can't do any sewing for awhile. She wants to make me some new things, but I must wait I guess."

"Oh, let me tell you what to do. Tell your mother about Cherry's, at 515 13th street. They have such pretty clothes for girls our age and they allow one to buy on credit. By paying a small sum down and so much a month one may have all kinds of becoming clothes." Cherry's store for men is at 523 13th street.—Advertisement.

Girl's Death After S. F. Party Probed

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Police today investigated the events leading up to the death of Olive Howard, 26, who died on her way to the emergency hospital following a party at several North Beach cafes. John Anson, an aviator from Crissey Field, who took her to the hospital, was held on a minor charge pending the investigation, although physicians at the hospital expressed the belief her death was due to natural causes, heart trouble probably having been aggravated by the excitement of the evening.

Chino Man Put On Farm Loan Board

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—John H. Guhl Jr., of Chino, Calif., was nominated by President Harding to be a member of the federal farm loan board. Guhl will succeed W. H. Joyce of Berkeley, who resigned a month ago. He was described by the farm loan board as a "practical farmer," a member of a number of agricultural associations in California, a former member of the State legislature and at present vice-president of the Farm Land Bank at Berkeley.

Fred K. Nielsen of Nebraska, solicitor for the state department, was nominated to be agent of the United States on the British-American claims commission.

Senate Tariff Vote Set For August 17

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The senate will vote on the tariff bill August 17, under a compromise agreement between Republican and Democratic leaders, to be presented for ratification to the whole senate today.

Speedy acceptance of this date is assured. This will bring to an end in two weeks a debate lasting since April 20, and marked at all times by unusual partisan bitterness.

The August 17 vote, however, will not see the tariff bill safely past the shoals and rocks for the conference between the two houses, for amendments made by the senate admittedly mean trouble for the bill.

SPOKANE, Aug. 3.—A $1,000,000 telescope is to be the largest in the world, will be placed in Spokane by C. H. Frye of Seattle, if the city of Spokane will provide a concrete foundation for it, according to an announcement made here yesterday by E. H. Stanton, a friend of Mr. Frye's.

While hunting with a companion, John Lustat, of Bakersfield, the boys separated, and although other members of the hunting party conducted a search, Burt was not seen until late yesterday. He was tired and hungry, but chose to remain in camp rather than return to Bakersfield.

Merchant Held in Rowan Gem Theft

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—Robert E. Lomax, 51 years old, proprietor of a downtown jewelry establishment, who was paroled from San Quentin penitentiary after serving five years of a 12-year sentence for second degree murder, has been arrested on a charge of receiving stolen diamonds.

According to the police, Lomax received 20 diamonds, valued at $10,000, part of loot valued at $25,000, obtained here May 31, when three men entered the Westlake residence of Mrs. V. J. Rowan, locked her and her maid in a closet and stripped the house of its portable valuables.

FORD FINED $30 FOR SPEEDING IN LARGE CAR

LEROY, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Henry Ford, the Detroit automobile manufacturer, paid a $30 fine into the village treasury Tuesday afternoon as a penalty for violating the speed ordinance when passing through Leroy in his large touring car.

Ford said that he was trying to make the evening boat at Buffalo for Detroit. He drove to the office of the police justice, where Ford remained in his car while his driver and secretary went before the justice and paid the fine.

DE VALERA HAS BACK TO WALL DURING RETREAT

Leader of Irish Rebels Urges Final Stand At Clonmel, But Is Overruled.

DUBLIN, Aug. 3 (By International News Service).—Eamonn de Valera, chief leader of the republican irregulars, with his back to the wall, is favoring a last stand against the Free State army at Clonmel, according to information received here today.

The republican chief was overruled by his advisers and the irregulars decided to fall back from Clonmel sector toward Carrick-on-Suir. De Valera was described as being greatly downcast over the situation.

Free State troops are advancing on Cashel from the east and already have captured Clonmel, nearby. The Free State advance continues in two directions: Southward and westward.

Several citizens in Dublin were wounded early today by the explosion of a bomb.

DUBLIN, Aug. 3 (By the Associated Press).—Further progress for the Irish national army in its drive against the irregulars of the south is reported in a message from Thurles today which says the town of Cashel has been captured by the nationalists. The fall of Tipperary enabled the Free State forces to advance on Cashel, thus paving the way to a further advance on Clonmel, the irregulars' stronghold, where Eamonn de Valera is making his headquarters.

Overnight reports were that the insurgents were in general falling back toward the south and southwest.

Hunters Return with Deer to Livermore

LIVERMORE, Aug. 3.—R. P. Klare, keeper of Mendenhall Springs, and a companion, A. Hayschmidt of Alameda, were the first hunters to bring a deer here this season. They arrived in town with a four-pointer that weighed 140 pounds, which was placed on display at the Clover market.

Four other hunting parties passed through town during the day with bucks killed in the mountain south of here, and all of them were good specimens.

The number of deer in the hills adjacent to Livermore this year is considered small in comparison with previous years by persons acquainted with the country. Early in the spring it was estimated that one could, in the course of a day's ride, see from 70 to 80 bucks, while during the past few days one would not see a cross more than 15 or 20. Just what the reason for this disappearance of the bucks is not known unless they have moved up to the higher mountains around Mount Hamilton.

Autos Kill 22 in S. F. in Month of July

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—During July automobiles took a toll of 22 lives in this city, according to an announcement made today by Coroner T. B. W. Leland.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

A Danger Signal That Cannot Be Ignored

Everyone—yourself included—has "off" days, when they feel tired, being incapacitated for work. Such a condition may arise from very commonplace causes—a touch of indigestion, lack of exercise or sleep. But when these "off" days become too frequent there is usually a more serious cause.

For example, one man was annoyed by headaches and slight momentary dizziness. But when they persisted for several months he had an examination made. The examination proved that he had a blood pressure of 200 when it should have been 140. That man, without knowing it, was walking on the edge of a precipice.

Symptoms
1. Cold hands and cold feet.
2. Slight momentary dizziness.
3. Sleep unrefreshing.
4. Sleep disturbed by dreams.
5. Feeling of fullness in the head.
6. Gastric disturbances after meals.
7. Constipation.
8. Weakness and lowered vitality.
9. Nervousness.
10. Headaches.

With many people these symptoms are slight and their full danger not realized. That they are dangerous, however, is shown by the fact that no Life Insurance Company will accept a person with high blood pressure 10 points above the normal, and statistics show that even this small pressure increases the mortality rate by 40%.

The Witter Water Treatment.
The Witter Water Treatment has been successful in reducing blood pressure as high as 200. The longer the treatment is postponed, however, the higher the pressure becomes. And the higher the pressure the longer it requires to get the patient out of the danger zone.

If you cannot call in person, telephone Douglas 1322, or mail the coupon for complete information.

JOHN BLACK STILL IMPROVING

Condition of John Black, Oakland golf professional, who was seriously injured in the automobile accident at Irvington Monday night which cost the life of Herbert Hamilton Brown, millionaire insurance man of Piedmont, was much improved today and he will probably recover.

This announcement was made by physicians who have been in constant attendance since the night of the accident. Black's chances for recovering are fine, they say, unless complications set in.

Funeral services for Brown were held late today at the Brown residence, 123 Monte avenue, Piedmont. They were under direction of Piedmont Lodge, P. and A. M.

Cantilever Shoe for Men and Women

How Women's Feet Differ

Nothing is more individual than the arches of women's feet. Two women may be fitted to the same size of shoes; one may have high arches, the other low arches. Sometimes a woman's left arch is a trifle lower than her right arch; in ordinary shoes she suffers because of inadequate support under one arch.

The task of fitting her properly, likewise most women, in steel-shanked shoes is often impossible. Steel-shanked shoes are made with inflexible arches; they require your feet to fit them; you can't adjust them to your individual needs. That is one reason for the Cantilever Shoe, a good-looking shoe, fashioned with a flexible arch.

Fitting the Arch. Cantilever Shoes can be laced up snugly around the undercurve of your foot; they furnish the individual support you need there; no steel shank-piece concealed between soles hampers the natural flexibility of your foot.

Cantilevers are good looking; their flexible arches allow your foot muscles the free exercise they need; your circulation is that much improved; you don't tire so soon; you look better for not feeling tired; and you avoid foot-strain and the small army of troubles physicians ascribe to that.

As if Made For You. Allow us to show you in what good-looking Cantilevers we can give you your individual fit, support and flexibility.

Activities of WOMEN

Nuptial Plans Are Changed To Near Future

The date for the wedding of Miss Ella Winifred Brown and Malcolm Eastland McCure of Nashville, Tenn., has been changed from the 26th of the month to Friday afternoon, August 11. The ceremony will be read at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Percival Brown on Perry street, instead of in church. It will be a pretty home ceremony with Miss Hazel Brown, sister of the bride, as maid of honor and Mrs. Duncan Davis of San Francisco the matron of honor.

Ambrose Edwards will serve as best man.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Horace Percival Brown will give a trousseau tea for her daughter, a large number of intimate friends to call during the course of the afternoon.

LEAVES FOR THE NORTH. Mrs. Edwin Ralph Rinker of this city has gone to Seattle to visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Riddle. In honor of the young matron a dinner was given Saturday by Judge Boyd J. Tallman, places being set for ten guests.

The home of Mrs. Julia C. Clark of Telegraph avenue was the scene of a simply appointed wedding when her daughter, Miss Susan Florence Clark, became the bride of Clarence Roy Bourman. Miss Gertrude Irwin of Berkeley played the wedding march. The bride was attended by Mrs. Clarence F. Seavy of this city as matron of honor and Fred Foster of New Jersey served as best man.

Two huge baskets of pink dahlias and asparagus fern were the approach to the bower beneath which the nuptial vows were exchanged.

Rev. Thomas A. Boyer of the First Christian church of Richmond officiated in the presence of the two immediate families.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette crepe over white satin and carried a shower bouquet of pink bridesmaid roses and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony Miss Irwin sang "At Dawning."

After the wedding supper the couple left for a brief honeymoon trip.

Miss Sinclair Harrison of Berkeley is spending the summer in Seattle. She was accompanied north by Miss Dorothy Allen, who had been visiting in California and whom she is now visiting.

Informal affairs have marked her stay in the northern city.

LUNCHEON AT COUNTRY CLUB.

The San Francisco Golf and

Country club was an ideal setting for the luncheon at which Miss Katherine Bentley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irving Bentley presided in honor of Miss Hope Somerset, fiancée of Donald Walsh, Monday. Places were set for Mrs. Harold Jean Havre, Mrs. Harry Hush Magee, Mrs. John Okell, Miss Hope Somerset, Miss Elizabeth Magee, Miss Laura Lindsay Miller, Miss Katherine Maxwell, Miss Katie Fletcher, Miss Elizabeth Moore, Miss Claire Knight, Miss Elva Ghirdelli, Miss Katherine Armstrong and Miss Dorothy Grissim.

At 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Simpson of Blake street last evening, the marriage of Miss Ruth Simpson and Warren Buchanan, son of W. J. Buchanan of Contra Costa county, took place. Sixty relatives and friends were assembled. The home was attractive in a decoration of pink and lavender, hollyhocks, hydrangea, snapdragons and ferns forming the nuptial bower.

Rev. James Muir, pastor of the Pittsburg Congregational church, officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white lace and georgette with a bridal veil of tulle arranged at the head-dress with orange blossoms. She carried gardenias and bride's roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Dorothy Morris, who wore coral georgette and carried Ophelia roses. Kendall Loves served the bride-room as best man.

The two bridesmaids were Miss Norine Buchanan, sister of the bridegroom, who was in green georgette, carrying a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas, and Miss Edna Simpson, who wore yellow georgette, in arm bouquet of orchid sweet peas, contrasting with her gown.

The couple have gone to San Diego, on their honeymoon and on EDUCATION BOARD MEETINGS.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of education will be held this evening, when committees for the coming fiscal year will be appointed. Appointment of new committees, expected on July 1, was delayed because the board could not agree on the choice of a president, but now that President Harry Boyle is re-elected the appointment of committees follows.

EX-MARINES NOT JOBLESS, CLAIM

That men with former Marine Corps training do not add to the country's unemployment problem was the statement made today by Sergeant M. B. Bennett, in charge of the local Marine recruiting station in the basement of the city hall.

"It is a significant fact," says Sergeant Bennett, "that only in the rarest instances do recruits find ex-United States Marines out of work. While a fair percentage of former Marines do re-enlist in the service, it is usually after holding some civilian job or other, and after due deliberation as to the advantages of a military career. Many have fitted themselves for some lucrative military specialty and consider after a trial that civil life has nothing better to offer."

The sergeant went on to state that a large number of recruits are secured from among the ranks of the unemployed, and in the vicinity of the large employment agencies. He explained the reason for this.

"The employment bureau district is the logical field for the Marine Corps recruiter because it is a comparatively simple matter to convince the seeker after a job, unskilled labor, who has neither a trade nor a profession, that an enlistment in the Marines, with the thorough training undergone, the habits of cleanliness, industry and thrift developed, the free educational advantages of our Marine

BOY RESCUED FROM DEATH IN ASPHALT PIT

BEND, Ore., Aug. 2.—Slowly sinking into a pit of hot melted asphalt left by a paving contractor last year, Hol's Non-chester, 9 years old, has been imprisoned in the sticky ooze for half an hour when he was rescued by workmen yesterday. Except for the fact that a playmate was with him when he attempted to walk across the black, seemingly solid surface, the child would have been drawn down to his death within another quarter of an hour. Harold Rollins, a boy about his own age, attempted to rescue Non-chester until the trapped boy "ad sun" to his waist, then ran for help.

MASONS TO VISIT SAN JOSE. RICHMOND, Aug. 2.—Alpha Lodge of Masons conferred the third degree on a number of candidates Tuesday night in Masonic hall. J. M. Brothers, worshipful master, presided. Plans were made to go to San Jose on Saturday evening, August 19, to confer the third degree for the San Jose lodge.

Corps Institute, the broadening influence of travel and the respect of employers for an honorable discharge from the Corps cannot but better his situation in the industrial world and make of him a more efficient, more self-reliant, more substantial citizen.

"The Marine Corps Institute, our big educational feature, offers to all Marines, without cost, every course in the curriculum of the highest priced correspondence school in the country."

L. A. TO HOLD UP WATER FILINGS

FRESNO, Cal., Aug. 2.—Difficulties existing between the city of Los Angeles and irrigation and agricultural and civic bodies of the San Joaquin valley which followed the making of applications by the southern metropolis for fillings on the Kings river, were temporarily settled here yesterday at an adjourned joint hearing of the federal and state water power commission. "I will state that the city of Los Angeles does not intend to rush matters and is most desirous of allowing the situation to remain in statu quo until the Pina Flat project is constructed. If at that time the need is shown, I am sure that Los Angeles will stick to her word," said Trent C. Anderson, assistant city attorney of Los Angeles. His reply was made to a statement by Senator M. B. Harris of Fresno calling attention to promises made at previous hearings by City Attorney Mathews of Los Angeles, that the city of Los Angeles would step aside if the need for the power sites was demonstrated in the valley.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau Information

"When did Center College defeat Harvard?"
October 29, 1921. The score was 6 to 0. Game played at Cambridge. "Had Harvard lost any games up to that time that year?"

"How about former years?"
It was Harvard's first defeat in five years.
"Are there any motion picture companies operating in San Rafael?"

According to the secretary of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce there is no motion picture company operating there at present. The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature, except school or legal problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The bureau is open every day except Sunday from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.
If answers are desired by mail stamps must be enclosed. Quickest results can be obtained by telephoning to the bureau. If you have any problems of a general nature to solve, ask THE TRIBUNE Information Bureau, Lakeside 6000.

San Francisco Man Shot By Accident

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 3.—Fed Holtman of 2765 Bush street, San Francisco, who is an employee of the Fairmont hotel, is in a hospital here with a bullet wound in the abdomen, the result of the accidental discharge of a revolver. Holtman says he was examining the weapon. He had been a guest at the ranch of Mike Rajogel near here. Doctors say Holtman will recover.

Hunters With Dogs Warned of Poison

SALINAS, Aug. 3.—A warning has been given all hunters in these parts by Sam Beavers, who is in charge of the coyote extermination work, to save dogs at home, as the entire foothill region from Monterey to the Arroyo Seco had been baited with poisoned meat intended for predatory animals.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Emily Adams of 816 Lydia street, Oakland, wishes to convey her grateful thanks to her many kind friends for their love and sympathy which she has been receiving during this time of great sorrow, and also to the kind friends who worked so hard in aiding the theater tickets for the benefit which was given her.

The family of the late Carl Hirschmann wish to express their sincere thanks to their many friends for their tender sympathy and floral offerings.

OIL DRILLERS ARE OUSTED BY U. S. MARINES

Protest Met By Statement That Government Doesn't Tolerate Trespass.

CASPER, Wyo., Aug. 3.—Drillers of the Mutual Oil company packed their tools and vacated the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve today, following the arrival of a detachment of four U. S. marines commanded by Captain George Shuler.

Indications are that no further efforts will be made by the workers to enter the reserve, following the order of the federal government for them to vacate.
After the workers left the field, the detachment of marines returned to Casper.
In reply to Governor Carey's protest against sending the marines into the reserve, a message from George Christian, secretary to President Harding, stated that the government would not tolerate trespass and that the federal government "cannot embark on a course civil suits to protect itself from trespass on the reserve."

Slayer Suspect Held After Preliminary
DOS PALOS, Aug. 3.—Francisco Lopez, alias Sablich, has been held to answer, following his preliminary hearing in Merced, charged with the murder of Thomas Sablich at this place. Lopez, a Mexican youth of 20, listened to the evidence unmoved and occasionally smiled. Following his arrest he admitted killing Sablich, a ranch hand, after they had been drinking during the evening. Sablich was slashed and stabbed with a large pocketknife and was also beaten. He was well known around here, but Lopez is a stranger who casually met him the day of the killing. He was an elderly man who, Lopez says, after having had several drinks attacked him.

Reader Takes Newer Form of Iron—Feels Years Younger

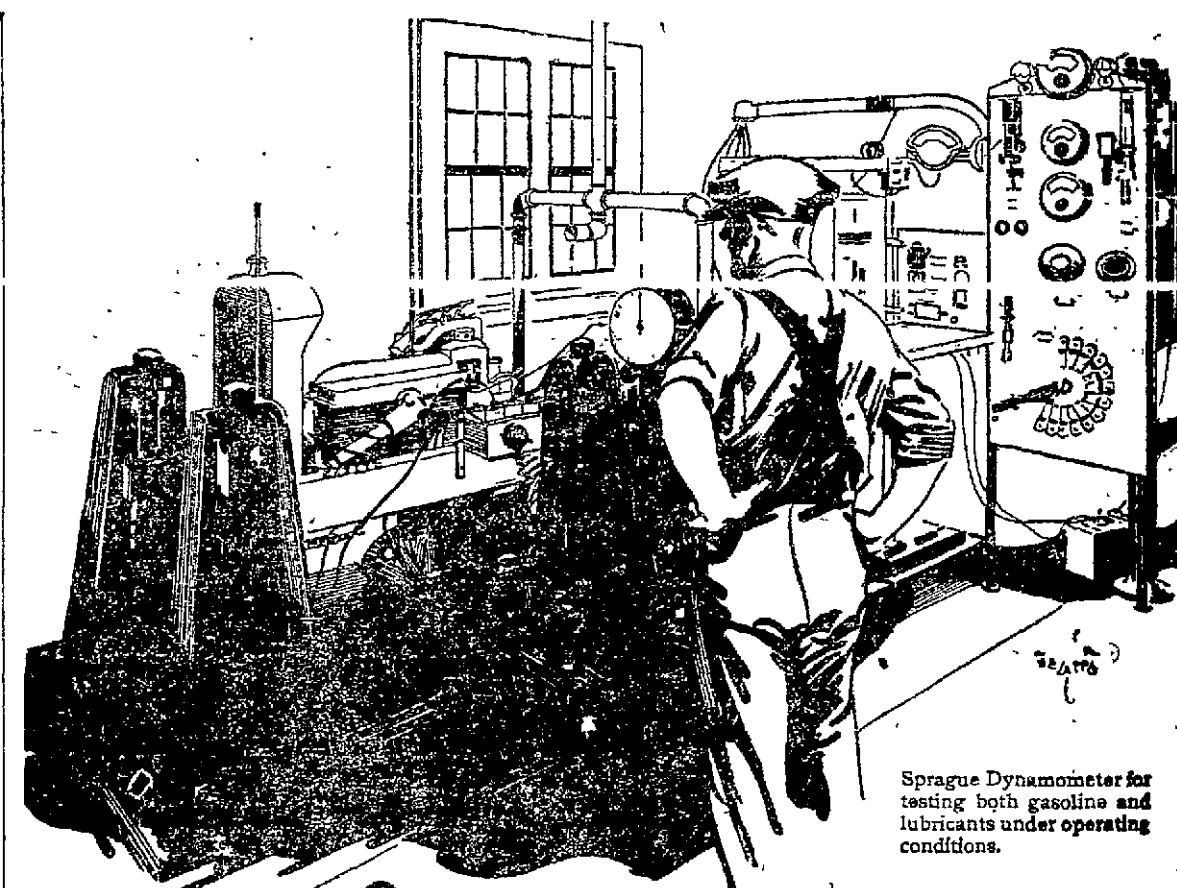

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling how thousands of people grow old in looks and energy long before they are really old in years, because, as examinations by physicians have shown, an enormous number of people do not have enough iron in their blood. I have been taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks: the results are simply astounding. The roses have come back in my lips and cheeks, and I can conscientiously say that I feel ten years younger."
The above is a typical hypothetical case showing the results that have been achieved by a great many people since we started this "satisfaction or money back" offer on Nuxated Iron. We will make you the same guarantee. If, after taking the two weeks' treatment of Nuxated Iron, you do not feel and look years younger, we will promptly refund your money. Call at once for a bottle of Nuxated Iron at Owl Drug Company or any other good drug store.—Advertisement.

To Abolish Gas!

There can be no peace on earth for a vast multitude of people until they get rid of the evil effects of gas in the stomach and bowels. Those distressing pains around your heart may be due to gas pressure. That anxious, nervous feeling, often accompanied by heart palpitation, difficult breathing or a smothering sensation, can usually be traced to the same source.
To secure permanent relief you must abolish gas—prevent its formation. This may be done by taking Baalman's Gas Tablets, which act directly upon the source of nerves controlling the digestive function and quickly assist in removing the cause of the trouble.
Baalman's Gas Tablets are perfectly harmless, but wonderfully effective. The first dose will prove their exceptional merit. Get a package today and enjoy some real relief. Genuine Baalman's Gas Tablets come only in the yellow package. Price one dollar. Sold by the Owl Drug Company and leading druggists everywhere. Baalman, Chemist, San Francisco.—Advertisement.

Uniform Vaporization—Complete Combustion

When you buy gasoline, you are buying power. How much power you get out of a gallon of fuel depends, first, upon the number of heat units it contains, and second, upon how completely these heat units are converted into power.

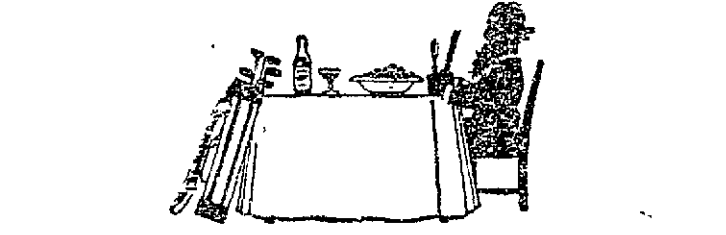

Automotive engineers will tell you that the ideal motor fuel is the one which contains the maximum number of heat units that can be vaporized rapidly and uniformly in the carburetor, and consumed completely in the cylinders of the engine.

Red Crown gasoline conforms to this definition of quality—100%.

It vaporizes readily and uniformly—that means prompt starting and smooth acceleration. It is completely consumed in the cylinders—that means greater power and mileage at less cost.

Fill at the Red Crown sign—at Service Stations, garages, or other dealers.

Two Clues Found in Police Murder

FRESNO, Aug. 3.—Two new clues were being followed by the police and sheriff here last night in the hunt which has been under way since Monday morning for Frank Stone, charged by his two companions, Chester Boyd and Laurel Clark, and in the report of the coroner's jury, with the murder of Police Sergeant James Hardin.

They were the finding of a striped necktie similar to the one worn by Stone along the banks of the Kings river, and the report to the police by stage company officials that the driver of a Mercedes-Madera was getting in to the Fresno terminal said there was a passenger on his stage who closely resembled Stone. Later the driver discovered a bullet for a 32-caliber automatic in the compartment occupied by the man. According to the police, the bullet which killed Hardin was fired from a 32-caliber pistol.

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—After a furious pursuit through the streets, in which many shots were fired, a man identified as Raymond L. Maytorena was shot and killed last night by Patrolman C. O. Groom.

The pursuit followed the shooting and serious wounding of Miss Mary Hough by a man named as Paul Curran, who had refused to let her out of his automobile, it was said.

The dead man was identified by his wife, who said he was a nephew of Jose Maria Maytorena, former governor of Sonora, Mex. Officers have not connected him with the Hough shooting.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—Miss Mary Hough, 24 years old, was shot and possibly fatally wounded by a man riding in an automobile at Fifth avenue and Country Club drive early last night.

Harry Jensen, who lives near the scene and who went to Miss Hough's assistance, when he heard her scream, was shot through the left cheek.

Miss Hough and Jensen were taken to the receiving hospital, where police surgeons declared the former probably would die and the latter recover.

Miss Hough's assailant abandoned his automobile after the shooting and, revolver in hand, ran across vacant lots and into brush on a nearby hillside.

Residents of the district said they had seen Miss Hough jump out of the automobile just before she screamed and Jensen rushed to her aid.

In the car were found two overcoats, a cap and a woman's wrap. The police stated a man named by Miss Hough was Paul Curran, 28, son of the manager of a lumber company, and that he was the object of their search.

Jealousy, the officers declared, was the apparent motive for the shooting.

CITY LIVES TOO MUCH IN SELF, CLAIMS SPEAKER

Oakland Surrounded by Wall, Progressive Business
Club Is Told.

The trouble with Oakland has been that there has been an invisible stone wall around it, in the opinion of George E. Mellon, who is with the bureau development department of the Post of Italy, who spoke at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Progressive Business Club at the Hotel Oakland. His subject was "Oakland a Prosperous City."

"The progressive men of the type of which this club is composed absolutely essential to the development of Oakland," the speaker said. "Oakland's trouble in the past has been that it has had an invisible stone wall around it. Oakland does think within itself, but does not let the world know about it."

"The growth of this city has been by leaps and bounds. The period of growth noticeable in 1912 was stopped by the war. Recently there has been a very marked growth from without."

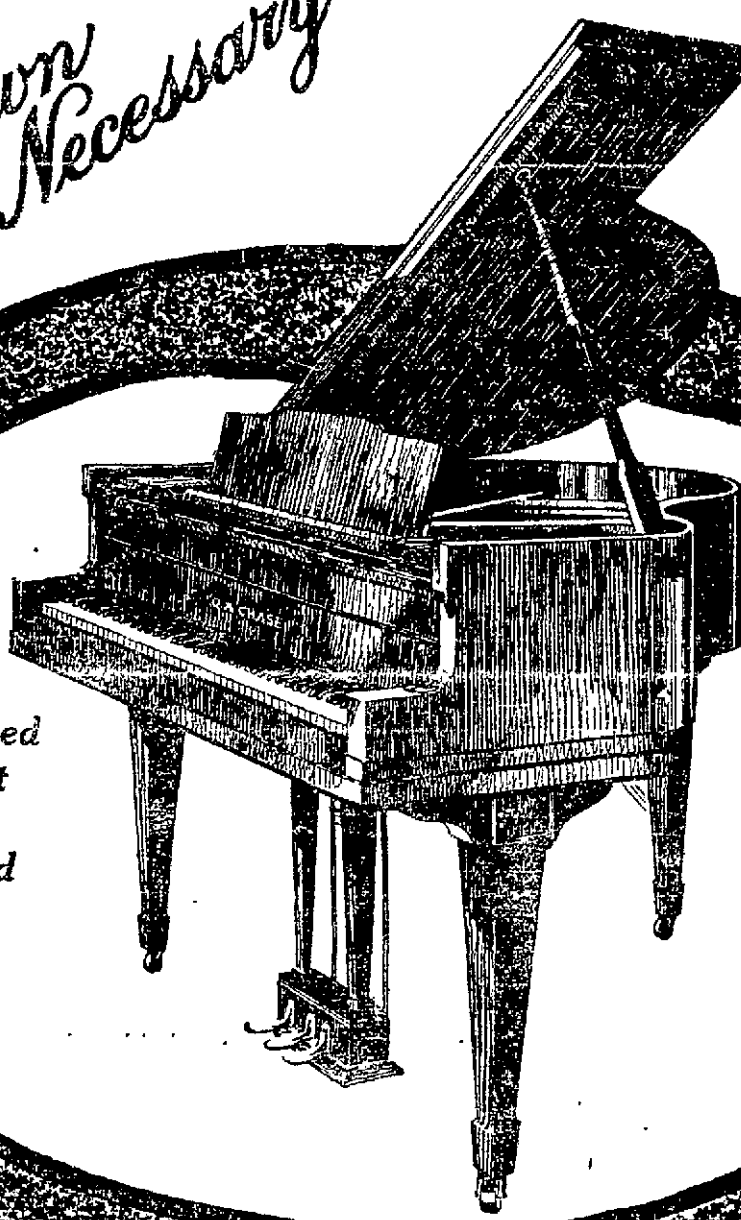

"The idea of putting out a trainload of boosters, taken up later by other cities, original in Oakland and Oakland sent out the biggest train of boosters that ever went out from the Eastbay district. "You can see on the t don't understand, the men that hold back this city. They stand out conspicuously. We had to come with that element in the $100,000 Chamber of Commerce drive. "What has come to Oakland has been given to us. This it has not, in the past, backed up the necessary means to bring business here. The Chamber of Commerce has not been properly backed up. "The main thing to do to make Oakland prosper is to try and break down this stone wall by putting a word for Oakland whenever the opportunity presents itself."

UNIFORM LAWS FOR STATES URGED AT CONFERENCE

National Commissioners, in S. F., Elect Gen. MacChesney President.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—The national conference of commissioners on uniform state laws commenced its 33d annual session yesterday at the Hotel St. Francis with the election of General Nathan William MacChesney of Chicago as president. The election of General MacChesney and the other officers was presided over by the retiring president and the presence of other officials.

The following officers were elected: In addition to the president, Colonel Eugene C. Massie, of Richmond, Va.; George C. Bogert, of Ithaca, N. Y.; W. O. Hart, New Orleans; N. A. Severance, Minneapolis; president of the American Bar Association, and William C. Kincaid, of Cheyenne, Wyo.

The conference is attended by 60 commissioners, representing 32 states. All the delegates are judges and attorneys of prominence.

DELEGATES WELCOMED. The delegates were welcomed to San Francisco by Judge Sylvester McAtee and by Jefferson B. Chandler, president of the California Bar Association. Chandler said in the course of his address:

"While California has adopted only three of the uniform state laws which you have recommended, yet the Bar Association has been active in seeking the adoption of all your measures before the Legislature."

The subjects of discussion by the conference deal with the urgent need of co-operation of the various legislatures in the enactment of uniform state laws governing matters of common interest throughout the nation. The program will include uniformity of acts governing arbitration, judicial decisions, aviation, joint parental guardianship of children, and protection of illegitimate children, marriage and marriage licenses, commerce, declaratory judgments and other matters. Reports by sub-committees which have worked on these subjects during the past year will be read.

It was stated at the conference that thus far eleven states have adopted ten or more of the acts recommended by the conference in past years. Increased co-operation between the various bar associations was urged in the report of the legislative committee, which was read by its chairman, John H. Voorhes.

The conference will be in session for several days, and will hold night sessions in order to deal with the large amount of business. The delegates will attend a banquet tomorrow night at the Commercial Club, and today they will be entertained at luncheon at the Cliff House.

ORPHEUM

W. A. Rusco, local theatrical manager who has been bringing the big road shows to Oakland both at the Auditorium Theater for the past year and more recently to the Oakland Orpheum Theater, is to reopen that house, which has been "dark" since the close of the engagement of "Some Wild Cats" several weeks ago. It was announced today that he has booked a number of the most popular plays of the season for the Orpheum, the first of which is "Able's Irish Rose," which will open for a week's run at that house on Sunday, August 13.

Following that, Leo Corliss will appear in a week's engagement, beginning August 20, in "Mike Angelo." This is to be followed by the week of August 28, by the celebrated comedienne Charlotte Greenwood or "So Long Latt." Then follows the play which has attracted more attention throughout the nation than any drama in recent stage history—John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln," with the distinguished star, Frank McClure, in the title role.

Stage and Film Stars Seen in Oakland

News of the Theaters

FULTON

Bessie Barriscale, beautiful favorite of the screen and stage, is making thousands laugh this week with her piquant, romping portrayal of the young wife in "Twin Beds," at the Fulton theater.

As the spaghetti-eating Italian tenor, Henry Shumer has the greatest comedy role of his long career. Opposite Miss Barriscale is Vaughan Morgan and the married young husband, Lucille Webster plays the part she played in the original road show production of "Twin Beds," as the strong-willed wife of the temperamental tenor. Frank Darlan, as a timid young husband, George Knowlton as the Irish servant, and Helen Audford as his trouble-making wife add to the fun of the production.

Starting Sunday, Miss Barriscale will be seen, with her husband, Howard Hickman, in Hickman's new play, "Scrubby."

T. and D.

The Oakland T. and D. patrons are being entertained this week with an exceptional array of photoplay attractions and a novel stage presentation that stops every show, owing to the enthusiastic applause of the audience.

Charles Ray in "S.V.P.," a romantic tale of Greenwich Village artist folks is the main feature. The story is a novel by Fannie Hurst, the other picture, it is an intensely dramatic story of a young girl whose love for music leads her away from the narrow mindedness of her own home circle to the big city where she finds both tragedy and romance.

The TRIBUTE T. and D. Camera News has some interesting news events to portray and a comedy is included on the bill.

NEW BROADWAY

Startlingly original in plot and staging, an unusual action, "His Back to the Wall" comes to the New Broadway theater today as part of another big double bill of screen attractions.

"His Back to the Wall" stars Raymond Hatton. The story revolves around Jeremy Dore, a graven at heart, whom fate has yanked out of an East-side tailor shop and spilled in the wildest cast of musical act in the west. And here, with his back against the wall and the town bully ready to fill the full of his soul, he is transformed into a hero against his will.

The second attraction on the same program offers Neal Hart in "The Heart of a Texan." It is the production's first presentation here.

"Buck" Jones follows Saturday in "To a Finish," while "Ten Nights in a Barroom" will be shown Sunday and Monday.

STATE

Bert Lytell is given a dual role in his newest production, "The Face Between," slated for a week's engagement at the State theater, opening at the afternoon performances Sunday, presented together with a live vaudeville program.

Phil Adams is bringing four pretty girls and another chap to the State with an elaborate musical act. The Criterion four are exponents of harmony and hilarity. "Wedded Bliss" is the title of a musical act of Roy Gordon and Neil Healy, offering something unique along vaudeville lines, while Amy and Louise Barlow stage a series of songs, dances and a little eccentric acrobatic work. The Le Belge Duo are spectacular gymnasts and acrobats. "Around the Clock," featuring Eddie Hefferan and a cast of girls, is topping the current vaudeville show, with Wanda Hawley on the screen in "The Truthful Lie."

NEW CHIMES

"Too Much Business," a straight comedy in six reels, adapted from Earl Derr Biggers' original story in the Saturday Evening Post, "John Henry and the Restless Sex," is the feature attraction at the New Chimes theater today.

This production, called the greatest six-reel comedy of the past four years, was made on the Pacific coast.

The plot of "Too Much Business" is clearly defined, following closely the inimitable Earl Derr Biggers' story in the Post, with an engrossing love story intertwined. The all-star cast is headed by Tully Marshall, who starred on the stage in such notable successes as "Paid in Full" and "The City."

That it is in the magic, while others contend that it is the very human though quaint old story that is told. Still others hold that it is the combination of the story and the music.

Steindorff's acumen in selecting such singers as Lillian Falkus, Gladys Walton, Campbell, Hazel Van Halten, John Van, Robert Carlson and Rafael Brunetto, and such a cast as Hazel Van Halten and Louis Fitz Roy, stands out as a bright and shining light.

The dainty and quaint costumes have been the subject of much comment and Harry Tyler and his associate artist, Otto Riehl, have outdone in the scenery which has been provided.

SCOUTS TO OPEN $25,000 DRIVE

Organization of a central committee to be in charge of the drive for funds by the Boy Scouts will be completed at a meeting at the Hotel Oakland tomorrow noon, according to an announcement by Abe P. Leach, president of the movement.

The campaign will have as its goal $25,000, the same amount as was asked last year, and will open on August 28 for a five-day drive, he declared.

The central committee is to be chosen from among the leaders of the city, many to be recruited from the luncheon clubs personnel.

Homer J. Bemiss, Scout executive, is now in Yosemite valley in command of a vacation expedition of two score Scouts and will return August 15 to assist in the work.

Oakland has taken over the executive work for the councils of the smaller Alameda county towns.

"CHURCH EDITOR" WIDOW, 83, WEDS HIS FRIEND, 89

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—Mrs. Harriet J. Kirkham, 83 years old, widow of the Rev. Frank A. Kirkham, formerly publisher of a church paper in Chicago, and sister of General Francis M. Drake, former governor of Iowa and financial founder of Drake university at Des Moines, yesterday became the bride of the Rev. John B. Hay, 80 years old, for 58 years an associate of her first husband in church work.

The bride's father was Judge John Adams Drake, a burglar, who was hanged in 1880, and a state senator of Iowa.

Two of the eleven were D. W. Cave and A. E. McCabe, arrested recently in San Francisco. Two others were R. Carter and Forrest Curtis, arrested in Long Beach yesterday on suspicion of burglary. The other seven are Cecil John and Floyd Coons, Ted Johnson, Wesley Beale, Wilbur Mauritz, and Louis Wood, suspected of robbery.

The first iron railroad was laid in England in 1767.

Superbo Automatic Gas Water Heaters

The long desired need for economical automatic hot water supply now achieved. Low cost of operation. Low installation cost. Ordinary gas supply pipes used. Danger of explosion absolutely eliminated. No sweat or condensation. A stream of hot water always equal in force to that from cold water faucets. Just like drawing hot water from city mains. HOT WATER DELIVERED AT A REDUCED FLOW. NOT MODERN HOT WATER. Phone Oakland 22 for free information or come in and see the "SUPERBO" in ACTION.

WHY—

Najarian holds no sales.

It would be to our interest to hold periodic sales. To do so we should have to lower our standards of selection and that would not be to our patrons' interest.

For every rug that Najarian selects as worthy of a place in his collection he examines and rejects hundreds because they fail to come up to the best standards—in choiceness of materials, pureness of animal and vegetable dyes, typicalness and refinement of pattern and quality of workmanship.

Each Najarian rug represents the greatest possible value, not sometimes, but always.

We shall be glad to send any of our rugs to your home for side-by-side comparison with other rugs. Thus you will quickly see that in value Najarian Oriental Rugs are not equalled.

Consistently finer rugs and "better" values have made—

WILSON ILLNESS DRIVES ACTOR- DOUBLE INSANE

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Corless Centennial Cunningham, who used to impersonate Woodrow Wilson on the vaudeville stage, was driven to insanity and then to burglary by his illustrious double's retirement from world affairs, his counsel told Judge Mearns yesterday when he arraigned in general sessions court.

Vaudeville producers, holding that a Wilson face no longer was a good drawing card, denied Cunningham employment, the lawyers said, and in desperation he smashed a jewelry store window in an effort to obtain funds for food.

THIRTY- MINUTE TALES

by Old Schuster

A CAMP DIVIDED

THE quarrel which brought enforced silence upon Luke Winans and Zeb Watts did not disturb the orderly procedure of their housekeeping and business. They drew a line in the center of the room and each kept his side. In the kitchen pre-halves of the stove belonged to each and it was only the dog who wandered, disturbed at the new silence, from one zone into the other and dared make free of the place. Each waited for the other to give in.

Luke and Zeb prospected together years before. It was Luke who found this claim and filed on it and the two had built the cabin, the sluice and the ditch and together they had worked. The quick had given them pay dirt, the waters of the creek had run through their sluice and separated the gold from the soil and, in their old age, they asked odds of no one.

The daily life of two men far from the nearest neighbor brought with its routine a magnified emphasis of detail. Zeb and Luke worked by schedule and system, and it was because of this that they quarreled. When the claim began to pay enough to make certain sufficient money to see them through, they shook hands solemnly and decided this was their last camp.

"Well work the sluice on and off," Zeb proposed. "One day will look after the house, wash the dishes and get the meals while I shovel dirt in the box, and the next day we'll shift around. The housekeeper will get a chance to go fishing or hunting or go down to Applegate in the afternoon, maybe."

The plan worked without hitch for more than a year. Then a prospector dropped in at the supper hour, was given a meal and a bed, and kept the two men up late at night talking of signs, of hopes, and of fortunes made and fortunes missed.

In the morning the visitor left and Luke started for the sluice.

"Just wait a minute," Zeb called. "You will notice there are some dishes what need washing."

Luke regarded the pile, larger by a third than usual. "Well, he said, 'it's your day to wash 'em, ain't it?'"

"Whose turn was it last night?" Zeb shook his finger in his partner's face as he put the question "Who sat up gabbing when he order he doin' the work, that's what I want to know?"

This was the quarrel which brought the silence to the shack. Zeb washed one-half the dishes and left the rest, the line was drawn from the center of the threshold across the cabin and the dishes and stove were divided. In the evening the two smoked and cursed each other, inwardly, as stubborn old fools.

Luke was washing the sluice one day and wishing he had the nerve, or could think of a diplomatic approach, to borrow some tobacco from Zeb when a stranger, dressed in the hiking clothes a city man, approached up the gulch. He was looking for Luke Winans, he said, and lost no time in stating his business.

"What I would like to do," said the stranger, "is buy this claim. I'll give you and your partner enough money to keep you for life in town, put in a modern hydraulic system here, and allow you a small percentage of the profit."

"No good," Luke replied. "Me and my partner ain't spending." "The claim is filed in your name," the man persisted. "What difference does it make what the old coot thinks? I'll go talk to him if you'd rather."

"He's obstinate as a mule," Luke explained. "Nope, it won't do you any good."

THE stranger, watching the old miner working in the primitive manner on a claim which he believed held a fortune, was not to be denied.

"Listen," he said, approaching close, "suppose you close the deal with me. The claim's yours, it doesn't belong one bit to the old jackass over there." Curiosity had drawn Zeb to the edge of the slope where he walked about in pretended unconcern. "Sell me the claim and we'll run him off."

Luke Winans was 70 years old, but he swung his shovel like a lad of 20 as he made for the startled stranger.

"Git out," he called, his voice cracking and shrill. "Git out, you varmint!" He swung at the man, who jumped back. With a rifle in his hands, Zeb came down the slope. The stranger ran.

"Shall I let him have it?" the excited Zeb asked, pointing the rifle. "What was he up to?" "He was trying to beat you out of your property, that's what he was trying to do," Luke explained, and they walked together to the cabin.

Inside, Luke looked down and discovered he was over the line in Zeb's premises. The two old men grinned sheepishly.

"If you had to suffer some tobacco?" Zeb asked, and the quarrel was ended.

30 Teachers Reach the Philippines

MANILA, P. I., July 17.—A. P. by mail.)—Thirty American teachers arrived on the transport Thomas this week from the United States. All of them will be sent to various parts of the archipelago outside of Manila. Governor General Wood has frequently urged the necessity of employing more American teachers to instruct native children in English. At present there are fewer than 400 American teachers in the Philippines, but the governor general believes there should be at least 1500 to teach the Filipino the English language.

QUEER FEELINGS AT MIDDLE AGE

Women Should Know how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps at This Trying Period

Sheboygan, Wisconsin. — "I was run down, tired and nervous. I could not even do my own housework, could not sleep at night and all kinds of queer thoughts would come to me. Finally I gave up going to the doctor and a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking the first bottle I could sleep better and I have kept on improving ever since. I have taken seven bottles now and am so happy that I am all over these bad feelings."

—Mrs. B. LANSER, 1639 N. 3rd St., Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

For the woman entering middle age Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can be of much benefit. During this time of life certain changes take place which sometimes develop into serious trouble.

Melancholia, nervousness, irritability, headache and dizziness are some of the symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a natural restorative, especially adapted to assist nature in carrying out safely past this time. Why not give it a fair trial?

Auxiliary Gas Boilers Save Money in large buildings

ARE YOU operating a large, oil-burning boiler at part capacity, just to heat water during the summer months? You can eliminate much of your general operating expense by hooking a small, auxiliary, automatic gas boiler into the system you already have.

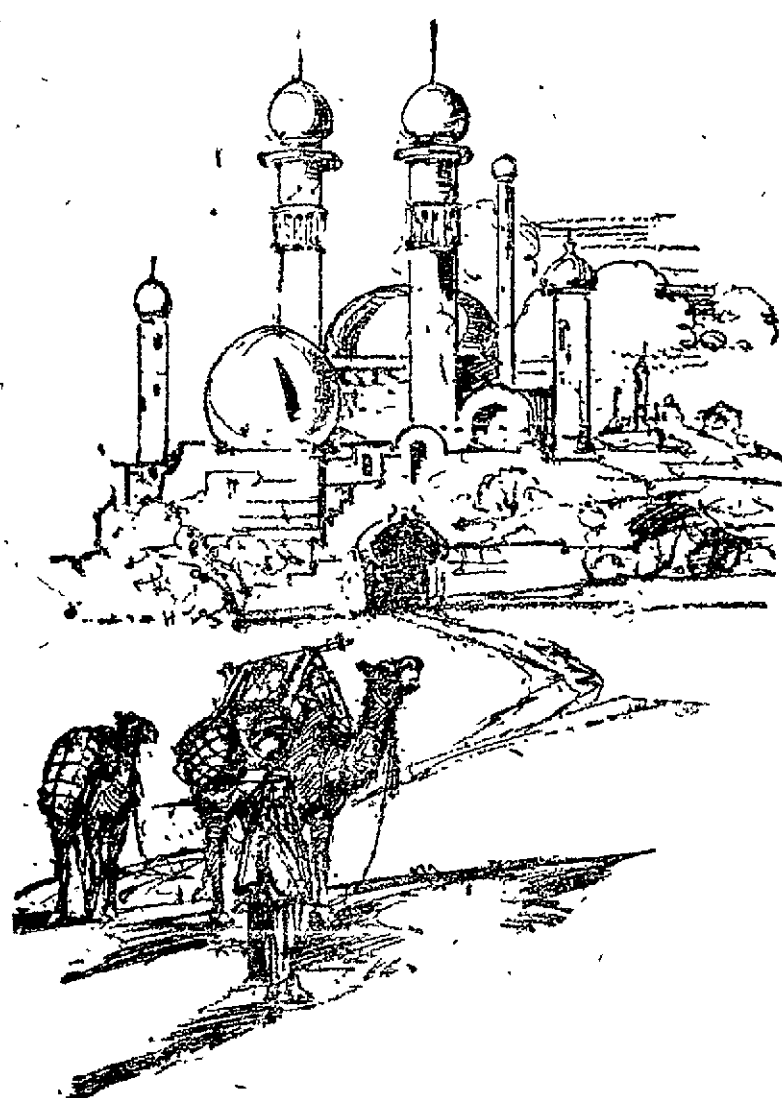

AN AUXILIARY GAS BOILER of small horsepower is especially useful in clubs and apartment houses. It will keep the water in a large tank hot, or furnish large quantities of hot water for other purposes under normal conditions at a very low cost. In addition to the saving effected in operating expenses, an automatic gas boiler will also permit you to shut down the large boiler for inspection, reduce your insurance while it is in use, and prolong the period over which your large boiler will retain the required Safety Factor.

Ask at the P G and E office to have one of the Company's engineers sent around to discuss the installation of an auxiliary, automatic gas boiler in your building. Release your engineer for other work, and save on your general expenses.

AT REMARKABLE PRICE-REDUCTIONS

3500 Rugs to Choose From

Room-Size Rugs — Small Rugs — Stair and Hall Runners

These Are the Lowest Prices Since the War

The purpose of this Sale is to create a widespread knowledge of the beauty and value of Oriental Rugs, to dispel the belief that they are high priced, and to make the public acquainted with the largest and finest collections we have ever assembled.

The Wonderfully Low Prices of this Sale must lead to a greatly increased popular use of these unequaled and economical floor-coverings, and justify our great reductions by a much larger volume. The proposed new tariff, when in effect, may result in an increase of 25% in the cost of Oriental Rugs.

We state, without hesitation, that this collection of Rugs, and the Values now offered, are not to be equaled elsewhere

Every Rug in the Sale is a Choice Example of its kind, selected by our own experts, and Guaranteed Absolutely as represented by W. & J. Sloane, specialists in Floor-Coverings for over 73 years. My Favorite Stories by IRVIN S. COBB

The Plum Limit and Then Some

It was before my day, but in our country they still talk about a convention which was held one time to select a nominee for railroad commissioner of our district. Ballot after ballot the vote stood a tie between the candidate from the upper end of the district and the candidate from our end of the state, which was the extreme southwestern end. It was agreed early in the proceedings that no proxies might be given, but that every delegate must vote by name for himself. The consequence was that no delegate could go back home and leave a friend behind to cast his vote for him. They balloted without result for two days and two nights and still the deadlock lasted. Finally, on the third day at noon, the convention took a recess until four p. m.

The backers of the lower state candidate took advantage of the recess to hold a caucus and discuss ways and means for circumventing the enemy, if so be any such ways and means might be devised. In the midst of the caucus there rose up a gentleman and his name was Stonewall Jackson Bugg, but he was better known as Stony Bugg. Stony had an inspiration. He explained that he had got on quite friendly terms with an opposing delegate from up the state, a little, sickly-looking, cross-eyed man. It seemed that they had exchanged conversation and fine-cut chewing tobacco, and had found that their tastes in thoroughbred horses ran in the same channel, so now there was a bond between them.

Mr. Bugg's idea was this: He would go straightway and seek out the little cross-eyed man and would lure him off to some out-of-the-way grocery—they called them groceries in those days—and there, under cover of friendship, treacherously would ply his intended victim with strong waters until the latter was in a state of helplessness.

"Boys," said he, "this yer'll be the way of it: I'll get him so drunk he can't remember his own name. I'll get him so drunk he can't hit the ground with his hat. I'll fill him so full of them sweetenin' drinks he won't be able to talk, walk, or stand up. And then I'll stow him away in a corner somewhere to sleep it off and I'll leave him there and I'll be back at the hall in plenty of time to cast my vote and bust up this here tie. All you boys got to do is just make up a purse to buy the licker with and I'll do the rest."

Knowing Stony's magnificent capacity, his hearers gave loud cheers. By subscription a sum deemed to be amply sufficient for accomplishing the intended stratagem was immediately raised. Stony, pouching the contribution, hurried forth upon his mission.

Four o'clock came and the convention re-convened. Stony and his prey being still missing. The chairman, ordering the next ballot, bade the secretary to call the roll, not by county but by calling each separate delegate of each county by name, as was the rule. Alphabetically, the county from which the upstate delegate came was reached before the country from which Mr. Bugg came.

Just as the secretary had progressed as far as this up-state county, the door of the convention building opened and the little cross-eyed man appeared—alone. He swayed like an aspen but he still had powers of locomotion. He wobbled up the hall. He came to where a shadow lay across the aisle. He stopped and rolled up his trouser legs and waded through it and fell into his own seat just in time to answer to his name and to cast the vote which gave the nomination to his candidate by a plurality of one, leaving the opposition utterly stunned and flabbergasted.

The chairman had just declared the result amid the applause of the victorious faction, when again the door swung open and a limp heap, attired in tattered garments, fell in and lay upon the floor where it had fallen, and was recognized as Stonewall Jackson Bugg. Some subtle homing instinct, working behind the alcoholic veil, mechanically and automatically had directed his footsteps back to the place which he had been carrying in his mind just before his mind left him. Friends ran to him and raised his head. He breathed heavily but otherwise gave no signs of conscious life. They shook him; they beat him upon the chest, they called to him by his name and by other names.

"Stony," they cried, "Stony, listen! Why'n't you get him drunk?"

With difficulty he lifted one drowsy eyelid. With yet greater difficulty he focussed a wabby and uncertain eye upon the distressed countenance of those who bent over him. "Whish?" he inquired thickly.

"Why'n't you get that feller drunk like you promised?"

He half freed himself from the supporting arms. His chest heaved, his voice gurgled in his throat.

"Drunk?" he echoed blankly. Then proudly, as recollection came back to him: "Huh, boysh, I got that lil' raskil so dad-blame drunk I couldn't see 'im!"

Uncle Wiggly Stories by HOWARD R. GARDNER

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE JUMPING DOLL

UNCLE WIGGLY, hobbling around in the woods one day, looking for an adventure, heard some jolly laughter behind the sassafras bushes. "Well, now," thought the bunny rabbit gentleman to himself, as he twinkled his pink nose, "that doesn't sound very scary! I do believe the fuzzy fox, the Woolly Wolf, nor yet the Skilley Scallery Alligator would laugh like that. I think I'll be safe looking to see who it is. I'll do it!"

Carefully, on his tip-toes, Uncle Wiggly went to the screen of bushes and looked over. On the green, grassy ground the bunny uncle saw sitting Lulu and Alice. Wigglywobble, the ducks. On the ground between them was what seemed to be an old rag doll, with one shoe button eye left, and all the red paint rubbed off her nose.

"Isn't she the dearest thing!" quacked Lulu to her sister Alice. "Yes, and such a good jumper!" added Alice. "I just wish Uncle Wiggly could see her!"

"Well, I do see her and I see you duck girls, also!" suddenly spoke the bunny over the top of the bush.

"Oh, my!" quacked Lulu. "Goodness me!" quacked Alice, and being somewhat more romantic than her sister, Lulu added: "I think I am going to faint!"

"Oh, please don't!" begged Lulu, and Alice didn't. "Don't be afraid!" called Uncle Wiggly, over the sassafras bush,

"Oh, what do I see?" cried the bad, scratchy Bear, for it was his voice, coming so suddenly, that had startled the two duck girls.

"Oh, we're so glad it's you!" quacked Lulu, when the bunny gentleman came to the cool, green, grassy place where they were sitting.

"Excuse me for listening to what you said," spoke Uncle Wiggly, with a low and polite bow of his pink, twinkling nose. "But I could not help hearing. And I can't imagine, he added, looking at the not very clean rag doll, with one shoe button eye. 'I can't imagine why you call that doll the dearest thing.' Nor yet why you speak of her as such a good jumper. I never saw a jumping doll."

"Oh, but Priscilla Applecake is the dearest doll, isn't she, Lulu?" quacked Alice.

"She is, indeed!" answered Lulu. "And would you like to see her jump, Uncle Wiggly?"

"It would give me great pleasure," answered the bunny gentleman. Then and there that rag doll named Priscilla Applecake, with only one shoe button for an eye, suddenly began jumping about here and there on the green, grassy place, almost as well as Uncle Wiggly himself could jump.

"Very clever, I call it!" laughed Uncle Wiggly. "And perhaps you'll call me clever!" suddenly snarled a voice as Bully, inside the doll, stopped jumping. "I think I am quite clever to have sneaked up on you, as I have, to nibble your ears!" growled the voice, and there stood the bad Bushy Bear.

"Oh, dear! Please don't nibble my ears!" begged Uncle Wiggly. "Yes I shall!" grumbled the Bear. And just then Priscilla Applecake began dancing about, as Bully, inside her, leaped here and there right in front of the Bear.

"Oh, my! Oh, what do I see! A jumping doll! She must be a fairy and she'll turn me into a bear bush!" cried the bad, scratchy Bear. "This is no place for me!" Up jumped Bully, bumping the Bear on the nose, and then the bad creature was so frightened that he ran away without nibbling the bunny's ears at all.

"Very, very clever, I call that!" chuckled Mr. Longears, as Bully crawled from inside the rag doll's dress. And Lulu and Alice said the same thing. Priscilla said nothing, but she looked very wise with her one shoe-button eye.

ALAMEDA COUNTY HEALTH CENTER'S WORK SET FORTH

Oakland Had Lowest Infant Death Rate of Any City in Country.

The Alameda County Public Health Center, composed of Hiram Robinson, chairman; Fred Kahn, J. E. Knowland, Judge C. F. Snook, Miss Anna Florence Brown and Dr. Albert Powell, reported at today's meeting of the board of supervisors that the total expenditures for the year at the clinic at 3105 Grove street amounted to $73,960.

The receipts during that period were $15,061 and the health center asked sufficient funds from the county to cover the difference.

The matter was referred to a committee of the whole.

The sum of $25,673 for the Elmer Moore memorial was also asked by the health center, that being the amount of the total expenditures at the memorial building for the year.

It was stated by the health center that Oakland during the last year had the lowest infant death rate of any city in the United States. The rate was 31 cases in every 1,000. For the previous year the rate was 38 in the thousand.

In connection with the petition on the part of the people of Niles canyon and Dublin canyon to have the Stonybrook canyon road opened to the public, the health center's board decided to detail County Surveyor George Posey to inspect the district and make an estimate of the cost of building a fence between Niles canyon and Dublin canyon. The fence will be necessary if the road is opened. The cost is not too high the county will build the fence.

Women Voters Will Listen to Candidates

A mass meeting of citizens will be held in the Municipal Opera House at 2 p. m. tomorrow under the auspices of Oakland Center, California Civic League of Women Voters, when candidates for state offices whose names will appear on the primary ballot, will be introduced. Invitation has been extended to all nominees including the men and women who are seeking election to the senate and assembly from districts within the city, to address the public.

A salute to the flag led by Mrs. James Warren Comstock, will open the program. Community singing will be led by Mrs. Howard Bacon. Mrs. C. E. Wilson, president, will preside as chairman.

Mrs. Lucille Ketchum, chairman of membership, and Mrs. Charles Secombe, chairman of program, will welcome the visitors.

Candidates to Be Indorsed News of Politics in the State

The Republican County Committee of San Francisco will meet tonight to endorse candidates for state and local offices. The meeting is not expected to be as lively as the gathering Tuesday night of the Civic League of Improvement Clubs, which remained in session until morning and has stirred up the biggest kind of a row in the organization.

Strong endorsement of Governor William D. Stephens' candidacy for re-election was voiced by City Manager Clyde L. Seavey today in a statement denouncing "the campaign of misrepresentation which has been carried on by reactionary interests with the view of discrediting the Governor through false charges of extravagance in state government."

Seavey, who was formerly a member of the State Board of Control, assisted in drawing up the State budget for the present biennium.

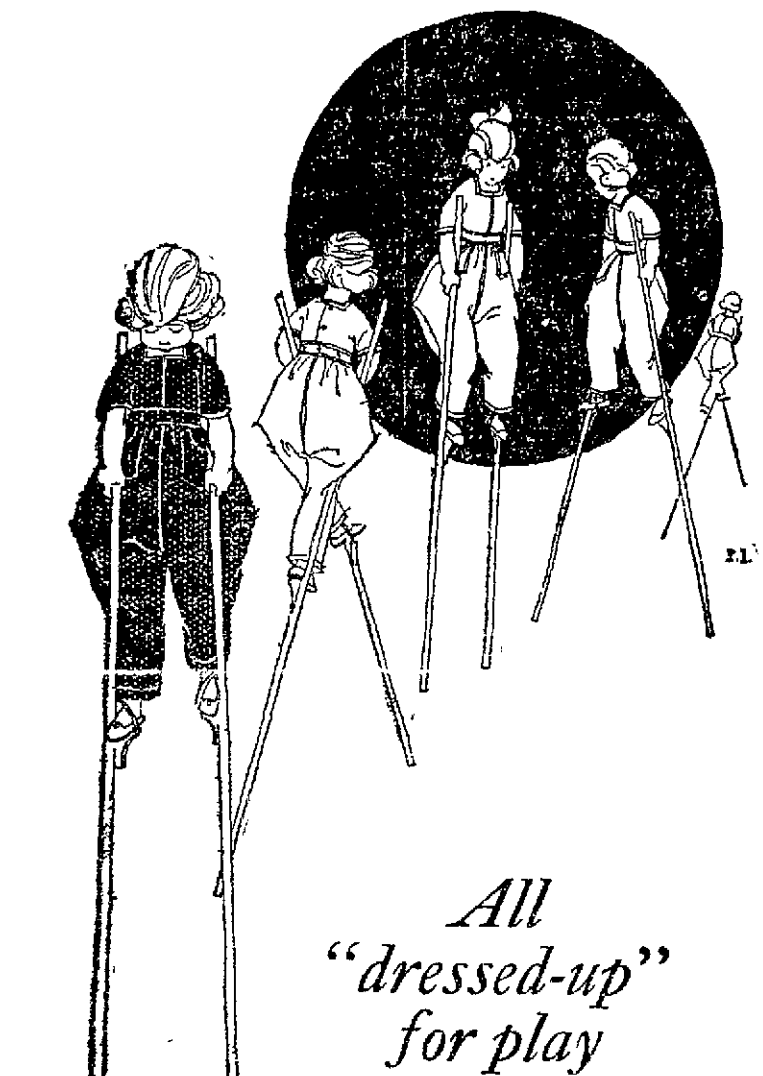

In his statement endorsing Governor Stephens' candidacy, Seavey declared that more than 50 per cent of all State appropriations for the years 1921 and 1922 is set aside for educational purposes. A total of $33,290,959 of all educational expenditures is a fixed charge on the income of the State and can not be approved or disapproved by the Governor, the City Manager affirmed.

"More business and less politics" in the government of the state was the message delivered to a meeting of the Southern California Dairymen's Association in Los Angeles by Friend W. Richardson, Republican candidate for governor. Richardson is at present campaigning through the south.

The women members of the campaign committee of the Johnson-Senator club of Alameda County yesterday completed the arrangements for the luncheon in honor of Mrs. Mahel Walker Wilberbrandt at the Hotel Oakland on Friday, August 4. Mrs. William N. Friend will preside at the luncheon. The guest of honor is Mrs. M. W. Wilberbrandt, Assistant United States Attorney General and the highest woman official in the United States. All women are invited to hear the speaker.

Acceptances from club women have been pouring into the Johnson headquarters and the affair promises to be one of the largest ever held by women in Oakland. Reservations can be made at headquarters, 1224 Broadway or by phone to Oakland 1691. The fifty women members of the Johnson organization have acted as a special committee to bring out a large attendance and to assist Mrs. William N. Friend in welcoming the guest of honor.

"In behalf of the women of our committee I invite every woman to attend the luncheon and hear the address of Mrs. Wilberbrandt," said Chairman Ben F. Woolner of the Johnson central organization. Our guest is one of the cleverest and most brilliant speakers and lawyers in the country. Her intimate

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT IS DENIED

A writ of habeas corpus was denied today by Judge George E. Samuels in the case of Tony Aless under, arraigned today with Frank August Villa, in connection with the murder of William Reinking, in this city, several weeks ago.

Avila is alleged to have struck Reinking on the head and killed him without provocation.

After the writ was denied to Alexander, Aless and Avila were called for arraignment. The point was then raised that Avila was only 17, and should be turned over to the juvenile court.

Mrs. August Aless was called to the stand to testify as to her son's age. When her name was called she faint.

Mrs. Avila was carried out of the courtroom by her daughter, Mrs. Albertina Pellada.

During the argument, while the prosecution was stressing the fierceness of the murder, and previous to the calling of Mrs. Aless's name, the two boys and the mother of Avila wept.

Sonoma Dry Raiders Liberate Accused

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 3.—Federal prohibition officers were compelled last night to liberate, on their own recognizance, eighteen prisoners who had been arrested in Sonoma county, after Sheriff John M. Doyes and Chief of Police George Matthews of Santa Rosa had refused to imprison them without warrants.

The arrests were made by twelve prohibition officers from San Francisco in a systematic series of raids over the county. One man, R. Jorgensen of Santa Rosa, was taken on the charge of resisting an officer.

It was said by the officers that he attempted to disarm one of them in the saloon of Peter Givolo here.

The accused men will be given a hearing today before United States Commissioner Hillard Comstock of Santa Rosa.

Pastor Taken From Tent With 11 Women

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 3.—Rev. William Sanford, who has been living in a tent with eleven women celibates, was forcibly taken from the tent where his revival meetings have been held at 11 a. m. today by police when he refused to obey an order to vacate. Sanford was taken in the patrol wagon to the police station.

Sanford refused to go with the officers unless the women were taken with him.

"The Lord says we shall not be separated," he said.

The women followed their leader, bitterly protesting.

Residents in the vicinity of the revival tent had complained that Sanford and his followers prayed long into the night in such loud voices that sleep was impossible.

Carrie M. Samuels Is Granted Divorce
Carrie M. Samuels, one time candidate for school director and prominent in political and social life of this city, was granted a divorce today by Superior Judge T. W. Harris from her husband, W. J. Samuels.

WOMAN FREED ON CHARGE OF FRAUD

Mrs. Alfreda Ephiam, whose name has been much before the public lately, due to numerous charges which have been filed against her during the past few months, was freed of the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, when Superior Judge George E. Samuels today granted a writ of habeas corpus asked in her behalf by her attorney, Monroe Friedman.

The charge on which Mrs. Ephiam was held was preferred as the result of a real estate deal, in which Mrs. Ephiam was alleged to have secured $1750 from another woman. The realty involved included Mrs. Ephiam's home in Broadway terrace.

Mrs. Ephiam is scheduled to appear in the police court tomorrow on a charge of operating a "swindley farm" without having taken out a license. Her appearance in court yesterday is the 31st charge against her in three years.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 3.—Ten persons, including women and children, were injured, one man probably fatally, when an auto stage was demolished on the station crossing at Kent by Seattle-bound Northern Pacific train No. 414 this morning. The injured, including the driver of the stage, were rushed to the hospital at Kent.

News of the tragedy was brought to Seattle by Bob Hesklth Jr., son of Robert Hesklth, Seattle real estate man, who was a passenger on the train and an eye-witness to the crash. The stage apparently tried to beat the train to the crossing, Hesklth said, with the result that it was caught broadside by the locomotive and hurled about 75 feet, landing in a heap of tangled wreckage. Screams of wounded passengers could be heard above the roar of the train, he said.

Scores of persons rushed to the wrecked bus and helped to extricate the injured victims.

Guardian of Estate Legatee Not Named

Superior Judge E. C. Robinson today continued until October 5 a hearing in a contested guardianship matter, which has been occupying the attention of the courts for several months past. Mrs. Anna Faris, 83, beneficiary of an estate of $30,000, is the central figure in the case, and both her niece, Mrs. Anna Faris, and her granddaughters, Mrs. Nellie D. Boezinger, are seeking guardianship of the aged woman. After a hearing occupying most of the afternoon, during which the claims of both sides were heard, Judge Robinson was asked to make a decision. He declined to make a decision, saying that the parties to the suit would do well to come to an agreement between themselves.

Dorothy Clark To Press $200,000 Suit

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 3.—That Dorothy Clark, 16-year-old dancer, intended to go through with her $200,000 suit against Herbert Rawlinson, motion picture star, for an alleged attack upon her, was seen today in the arrival here of the young dancer, who is now Mrs. Karl Elms.

It was learned today that Miss Clark, while in California, had been an annulment of her marriage to Elms, which took place at the time her charges against Rawlinson were filed by her mother. Miss Clark admitted that she never loved Elms.

Bostonians Rapped By Girl Revivalist

BOSTON, Aug. 2.—"You are going to hell by the thousands every day and brains won't save you," Mary Agnes Vilchevitch, 14-year-old revivalist, told Bostonians in a revival meeting here.

"You think you are educated, refined and cultured, but you are not," continued the girl, who is an ordained Baptist minister. "You are a bunch of blind fools—as blind as bats in the sun."

"Boston is following the devil's garbage wagon of materialism," she said.

Visit the East Bay Market On Saturday

Have you visited the East Bay Market, 15th and Telegraph, and seen the great display of foodstuffs kept under conditions of modern sanitation which cannot be found in any other market in the United States?

Every time you visit the East Bay Market you will find a shining cleanliness, a fresh ventilation, and such good light arrangement that you will marvel at the possibilities of modern ingenuity.

You will see one hundred prosperous merchants, enjoying the advantage of low cost of operation, and, therefore, enabled to sell goods at the lowest prices.

The principles of a great cooperative enterprise make it possible to do business economically and yet provide all modern improvements and facilities for sanitation and the convenience of patrons.

Come on Saturday, the next market day, and see vast stores of fresh, wholesome foodstuffs, everything that you may require for your table, protected by perfect sanitation, and sold at the lowest prevailing prices.

Former Berkeleyn Marries Society Leader in Montana

MRS. JULIAN C. INGRAM, who before her marriage yesterday, was Miss Norma Rauch, former University of California student.

BERKELEY, Aug. 3.—When Julian C. Ingram, son of W. F. Ingram, treasurer of the Southern Pacific Company and member of a well-known Berkeley family, left three years ago for Lewiston, Mont., to assume an important position in business circles, he didn't know that Dan Cupid was waiting there to greet him.

Yesterday Ingram claimed as his bride in Lewiston Miss Norma E. Ingram, daughter of a prominent family and a former student at the University of California. Although the Ingram home has been in Berkeley for many years, Ingram did not meet his future bride until he reached Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ingram went from Berkeley to attend their son's marriage. A large number of guests witnessed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride attended college in Berkeley several years ago and has a wide circle of friends in the bay region.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram will make their home in Lewiston, where the former is manager for Montana of a large business concern. Ingram is a member of the University of California Alumni Association.

The Ingrams are prominent in social circles about the bay. The family home at 1311 Main avenue being a center of hospitality in the college city. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ingram will return to Berkeley on Sunday.

LAKE BOULEVARD COMPLETION TO BE SPEEDED UP

Council Adopts Resolution to Hasten Work; Call For Bids Issued.

A resolution for the completion of the Lake Merritt boulevard, and calling for bids for an earth fill and macadam road, was adopted this morning by the city council, which has been urged to make haste lest the new driveway be unfinished before the rains. The land thrown up by the city dredger is now dried and the road, it is promised, will be finished before the rains. This applies to the driveway running from Harrison boulevard to Oak street.

In answer to the plea from Dewey school district residents, the council set aside lands at the north-west corner of Third and Linden for a playground of the first class.

East Oakland residents petitioned that a tract owned by the city at Forty-fifth and the Foothill boulevard be set aside for a park to accommodate the big population in that neighborhood. The matter was referred to the park department for a report.

A report by the poundmaster shows that the city during July collected 139 dogs, 23 goats, 4 cattle and 2 horses. Some of these are now "on hand" as civic assets.

Many street improvements were discussed and some were ordered one or two of them in spite of small protests. They included: Stanley avenue from East Fourteenth to Myers; Harmon avenue from Fifty-seventh to Seminary; Erie and York between Prince and Cottage; Crittenden street from Fifty-fourth avenue southeasterly; Holland street from Fifty-fourth southeasterly; Twenty-sixth avenue from Ninth street to Central Pacific tracks.

U. S. Mail Airplane Takes Record Load

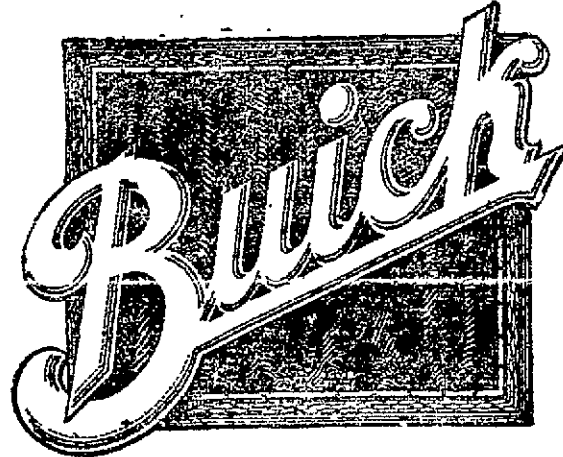

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 3.—(By Associated Press.)—A government mail airplane flying from Salt Lake City to Rock Springs, Wyo., yesterday, carried 573 pounds of first-class mail—a record for the western division of the service, according to announcement. The biggest previous load weighed 450 pounds.

Intoxication Laid To Doctor-Autoist

Dr. Charles L. McKown of Niles was held to answer to superior court on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell today. Bail was set at $100. He was arrested at the residence of his brother-in-law, Dr. J. H. Wood, on Ninth street, and is alleged to have run down and injured Charles Wood.

The earliest roller skate was patented by a Frenchman in 1819.

BAD CHECK PLOT BASIS IN ARREST OF TIME KEEPER

San Leandro Employee Held
As Suspect; $350
Forgery Charged.

Arrested early today on a warrant charging forgery, Ralph Ensign, timekeeper at the Best plant at San Leandro, is being held in the county jail, and Pinkerton agents and operators of the sheriff's office are continuing their investigation of a check signing case which may result in other arrests.

Ensign is charged with forging a check for $350 and passing it at the Bank of Emeryville. Mrs. Dorothy Baker, paying teller at the bank, today accompanied Deputy Sheriff Joseph Soares to San Leandro and identified Ensign as the man who presented her the worthless check.

According to Soares, the name of H. H. Bernhardt, manual training instructor at the Bay school and also employed in a Broadway jewelry store, was signed to the check, which officers say was a tracing of an original check rendered by Bernhardt on a real estate deal.

So far investigators have been unable to learn how a tracing could have been made from the original check. They said today that it was possible that another person might be implicated in the alleged forgery.

The warrant for Ensign's arrest was signed by Mrs. Baker.

QUICK WIT OF BOY PREVENTS FIRE IN SCHOOL

The presence of mind of 11-year-old Jack Hope of 1115 Market street probably prevented a disastrous fire in the gymnasium of the Vocational High School on Twelfth street this afternoon.

The youngster was sitting at a window in his home when he noticed flames coming out of the gymnasium, which is located across the street from the house in which he lives.

He ran to the nearest fire alarm box and turned in the alarm. The fire department, owing to the promptness with which the boy turned in the call, arrived in time to put out the flames before much damage was done.

Machinist Succumbs After Long Illness

Edward R. Roberts, a machinist, 35 years of age, who lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Roberts, 571 Sixth street, died today at Merritt hospital after an illness of about three months.

He had been a cripple form paralysis since childhood and recently suffered an attack of heart failure. He was a native of Oakland.

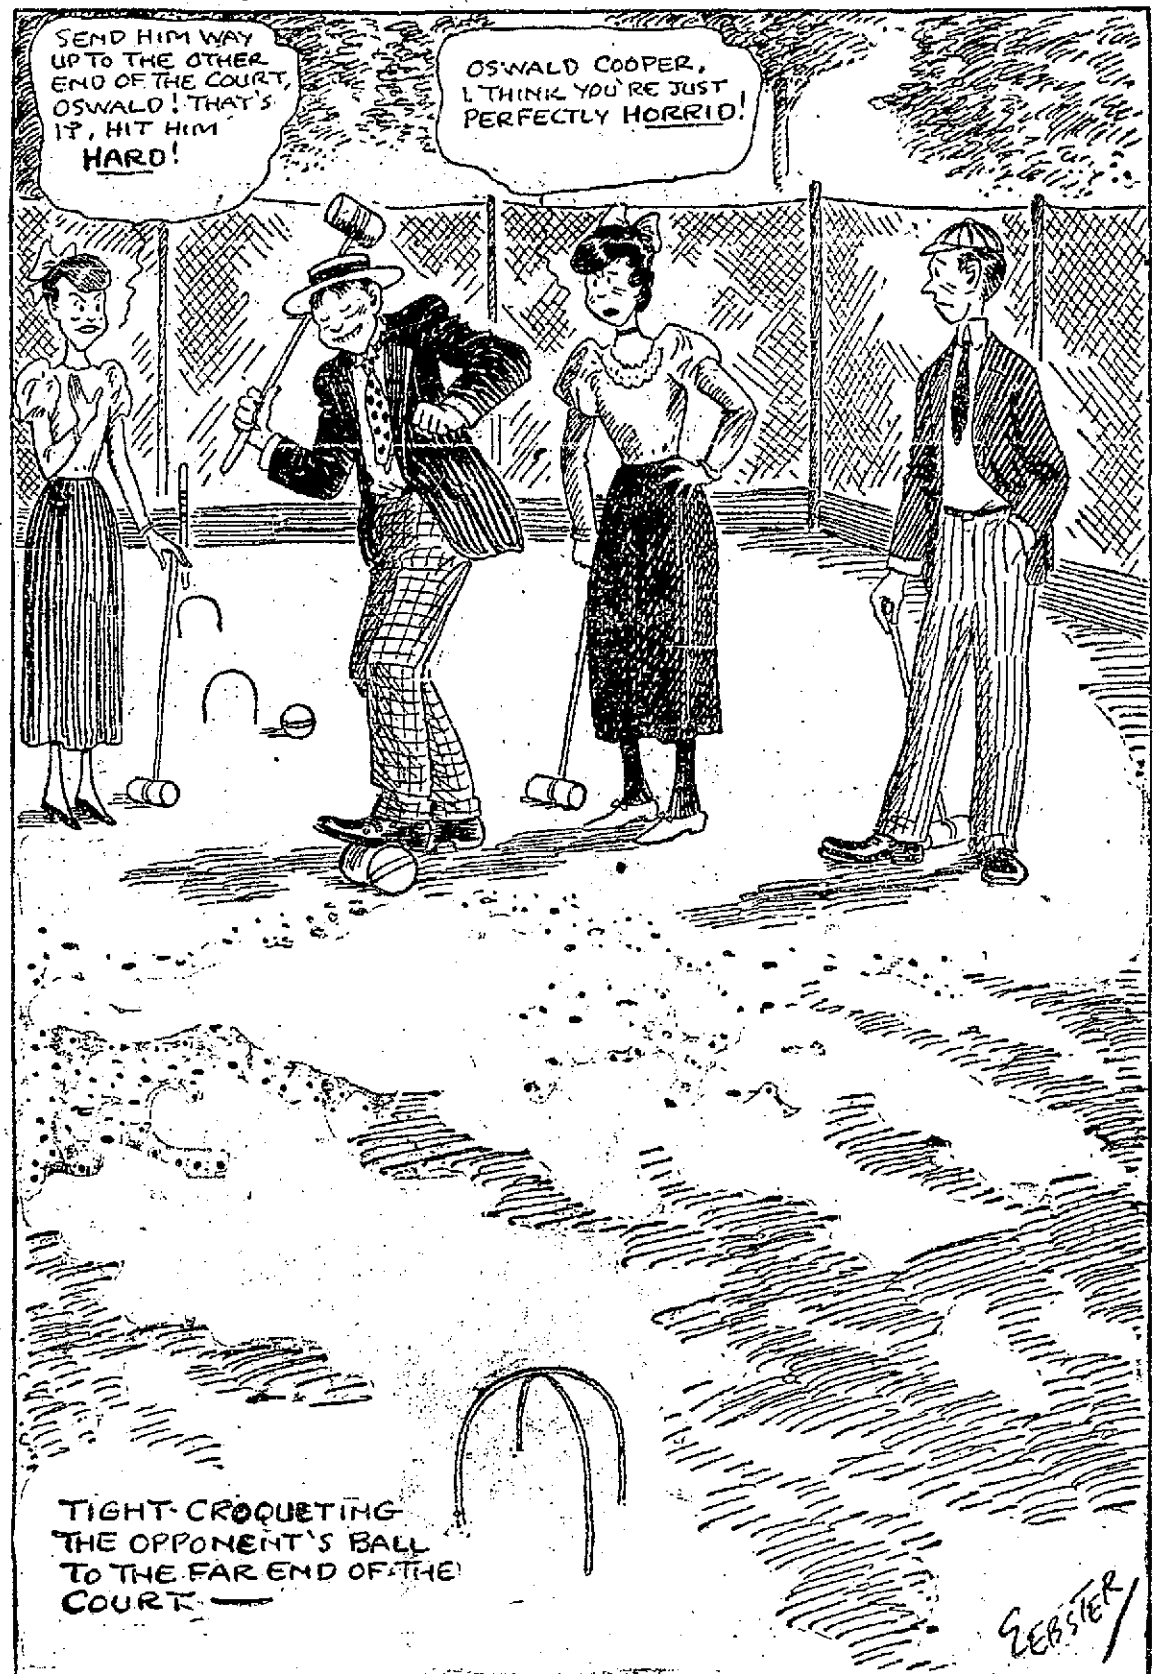

The funeral will be held Saturday from the family home.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime

Violence Sweeps Strike Centers as Peace Fails

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (By United Press).—Widespread violence broke out today following the failure of a peace conference intervention to bring peace in the railroad shopmen's strike.

An employee of the Illinois Central, who refused to strike, was beaten to death in Chicago.

Carl Spradley was killed and one other injured in an exchange of shots at Van Buren, Ark.

Fifteen strikers were under arrest in Jackson, Mich., following a riot at the Michigan Central shops.

Men, women and children stormed the home of a car foreman in Lincoln, Neb.

CHEROKEE, Iowa, Aug. 3.—One railway watchman is near death today and another is seriously wounded following a gun battle with two negroes in the Illinois Central yards here last night.

The watchmen, with drawn revolvers, started to search the negroes, who had alighted from a freight train. One of the blacks whipped out a gun and fired. The pair escaped.

CALIFORNIA ASKS AID
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3. (By International News Service).—Requests for additional deputy United States marshals to deal with the strike conditions in Texas and California were received at the department of justice today, accompanied by reports that conditions in those states were becoming more acute.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—(By United Press).—Robert Johnson, Illinois Central employee, was beaten to death here today by four unidentified men. Johnson was on his way to work when the men approached him. Persons driving by saw the men knock Johnson down and beat him. When police arrived Johnson was dead. Johnson was employed in the Burnside shops and refused to go out on strike, police said.

OGDEN, Utah, Aug. 3.—(By United Press).—Two hundred striking shopmen early today attacked by police assailants, seeking release of one of their number who was arrested last night charged with defying the police.

After leaders of the strikers had conferred with Chief of Police Allison, the arrested man was released, leaders promising to warn the strikers against violence, intimidation or violation of laws.

The demonstration was a sequel to action of the police when, under the leadership of Chief Curtis Allison, they dispersed a party of strikers who, for the past three nights, have been following strikebreakers through the streets as they left work, shouting "scabs" and ridiculing them.

S. P. GUARDS SHOT AT IN BAKERSFIELD YARD.
BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 3.—Three special guards of the Southern Pacific were fired on in East Bakersfield, according to report to the railroad offices last night. Police headed by Chief of Police Charles H. Stone conducted an investigation. No arrests were made. Between 15 and 20 shots were fired, it was said.

FIREMEN AND ENGINEERS SHOT AT BY GUARDS.
CLEVELAND, Aug. 3 (By United Press).—Leaders of the Big Four Brotherhoods today directed their members at two Indiana points to discontinue operation of trains if their lives are endangered by irresponsible guards. The two districts affected are at Jeffersonville and Richmond, on the Pennsylvania railroad.

According to David J. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, the railroad guards have shot at brotherhood members in some instances and otherwise intimidated them.

"Not only have they shot at our members," Robertson continued, "but, according to reports, the guards have used numbers on box cars for targets while our men were working on the cars."

A general committee representing the brotherhoods, left today for Louisville to investigate alleged intimidation and attacks on brotherhood members, employed on the Louisville & Nashville railway, by guards.

JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 3.—(By International News Service).—Police are arming themselves today against an expected outbreak of rioting in connection with the shopmen's strike here. Groups of angry strikers and their wives are collecting throughout the city, apparently in preparation for a concerted attack on strikebreakers outside railroad shops at the close of the day shift this afternoon.

This was the scene of yesterday's fighting, in which twenty persons were injured and fifteen arrested.

WORKERS STRIPPED OF CLOTHING AND FIRED ON.
DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 3.—(By United Press).—Three strikebreakers, missing after the raid on the Chicago Great Western round house last night, were discovered lying beside a road near North River by police officers early today. The men, stripped of most of their clothing, were in an exhausted condition. They were caught while fleeing from the round house, they said, and taken to the river in an automobile.

Their captors lined them up on the bank and told them to jump. Instead, they fled across an open field, followed by a few shots, none of which took effect.

BOOZE DIVORCE CAUSE
Charging that her husband was drunk habitually and that he stayed out until four and five o'clock in the morning and would then promise that he would do better the next time, Mrs. Helen Koster filed suit against Frank Koster in the Superior Court today. They were married in Los Angeles in 1919.

NOMINATION OF REED CERTAIN AS LEAD HOLDS

Long Running 7000 Behind in Missouri Democratic Primaries.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 3.—Reports from 19 additional outlying precincts cut Senator Reed's lead 496 more votes, and returns from 3,571 precincts out of 3,548 in the state gave Reed 187,184, Long 180,867.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 3.—Republican interference in the state Democratic primary was believed today to have resulted in the re-nomination of Senator James A. Reed, publicly repudiated by his party two years ago.

Incomplete returns indicated that Reed's majority in Tuesday's primary would be between 3000 and 4000 over Breckenridge Long, former member of President Wilson's administration.

Reed had a lead of nearly 9000 today, but observers estimated the missing precincts would increase Long's total considerably. The missing precincts were in the Ozark mountains region and returns from there were unusually slow.

Republicans threw their support behind Reed as an endorsement of his opposition to former President Wilson and the League of Nations. Long forces charged today.

R. R. Brewster, Republican senatorial candidate, holds a 40,000 majority today and indications were missing precincts would swell his total.

The state renominated thirteen congressmen—twelve Republicans and one Democrat. Two contests were still doubtful.

Congressman Phil Campbell, chairman of the House rules committee, was defeated in the third district for renomination.

Other Kansas congressmen were renominated.

J. C. Walton, running in the Democratic primary in Oklahoma as a farmer-labor candidate for governor, easily defeated other aspirants. John Fields won in the Republican contest.

Miss Alice Robertson won the renomination to congress in the second Oklahoma district, but Manuel Herrick, "dare devil" congressman, was defeated in the eighth district. Other Oklahoma representatives, with the exception of J. E. Chandler, Republican, from the first district, were believed renominated.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 3.—Mrs. St. Clair Moss of Christian College, Columbia, Mo., apparently has won the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Eighth Missouri district from her two male opponents. With 160 out of 220 precincts in the district reporting, the vote stood:

Mrs. Moss, 6906.
Charles E. Dewey of Jefferson City, 5158.
E. M. Levey of Linn, 4437.

Mrs. Moss will oppose Republican Congressman Sid B. Roach at the November election.

ANTI-KLAN, LABOR WIN.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 3.—(By The Associated Press).—R. H. Wilson, state superintendent of public instruction, and J. C. Walton's strongest opponent in the Democratic contest for the nomination for governor today conceded Walton's victory.

Walton's lead gives the anti-Ku Klux Klan and farmer-labor elements a decisive victory in Oklahoma. Wilson, a progressive candidate, was understood to have had the solid support of the Klan while Walton, Oklahoma City's mayor, made the race on principles resembling those of the non-partisan league, which he adopted when he was endorsed by the farmer-labor reconstruction league. He vigorously opposed the "invisible empire."

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 3.—Complete returns from 69 out of 105 counties today gave W. W. Morgan, "Industrial court candidate," a lead of 9000 votes over W. R. Stubbs, his nearest opponent, in the Republican primary race for the nomination of governor.

This lead, it was believed, would continue to increase and was sufficient to assure Morgan the nomination.

Opium From Estate Turned Over to Police

Nineteen tins of opium valued at $2,600 were today turned over to Chief of Police James T. Drew by the court order of Police Judge Mortimer Smith.

The opium was seized in a safe deposit box in the Bank of Italy on July 26. The box belonged to the estate of Wo Lee, a Chinese merchant. The opium was discovered when the public administrator opened the box. The state board of pharmacy was notified and Inspector J. F. McCarthy applied for the search warrant. The opium will be turned over by the Chief of Police to the State Board of Pharmacy.

The Municipal Auditorium made a net profit of $1,752.47 during July, according to a monthly report just issued by Commissioner A. E. Carter. The receipts were $4,108.95, while the expenses were $2,356.48.

Speeder, Fined, Lectured, Sends Cigars to Police

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 3.—John G. Johnston of San Francisco qualified today as the original twentieth century "left and right checker."

On Sunday last Johnston was arrested for violating the traffic laws by Traffic Policeman Joseph Brandon. In addition to delivering the court order Brandon delivered a complete speech dealing with automobile drivers in general and Johnston in particular, according to his statement.

Instead of growing irate Johnston accepted the verbal lashing, appeared in court, paid the customary fine and today Policeman Brandon received a note thanking him for his advice, which was inclosed in a box of cigars. Policeman Brandon professes himself flabbergasted.

St. Louis, Missouri, has almost 1000 miles of streets.

Pioneer Women to See African Exhibit

Pioneer women of Oakland will visit the Oakland museum, 274 Nineteenth street, at 2 p. m. tomorrow, to inspect the African collection which has been presented to the city by H. A. Snow. Snow will receive the clubwomen and personally conduct them through the building, recently acquired to house the valuable exhibit.

The Pioneer Women was the first organization to sponsor the acquisition of proper museum facilities for Oakland. Mrs. Sarah Farwell is president.

Oakdale Hospital Bond Vote Defeated

MODESTO, Aug. 3.—Oakdale must wait for her community hospital. The proposal to vote $35,000 bonds for that purpose was defeated, 141 to 76. A two-thirds vote was necessary. The defeat is attributed to the light vote polled. Another election will be held soon on the same issue, it is believed. Oakdale now has no hospital.

Old Barkentine Salves Pride By Record Trip

Forty-one years old, long ago elbowed into the discard by newer, faster types of ships, the "Mary Winkelman," an old-time barkentine, rose in her pride this week and came down the coast in steamboat time.

Back in '81, when the "Mary" went on her maiden voyage out of Seattle, Wash., she became one of the finest and fastest vessels in the passenger trade between San Francisco and Honolulu. She made and broke many records. She was the admiration of seagoing men.

Then came steam, and "more speed" became the watchword among shipping men. The haughty barkentines, like the "Mary," that had once ruled the waves, had to swallow their pride as they saw the fast ships take their places on the main ocean pathways. Most of them, like the "Mary," went down and down until there was nothing left for them but the lumber trade. They became stigmatized as "old windjammers." Steam schooners puffed insolently by them; even tugboats snorted importantly around them.

Apparently the pride of the "Mary Winkelman" died hard. It is recalled by the crew, now, that there seemed to be something like a definite purpose about the way she shook herself against the lash of the sea as she crossed Puget Sound Bay out of Port Angeles last week and nosed into the ocean that had known her better days. The meaning of it became more apparent as they watched the old ship lean as never before to the fair wind that followed her down the coast. They understand it fully, now that the voyage is over—for the "Mary" made the trip in just seven days, which is the best that many of the steam schooners can do. She was showing the new ocean upstarts what the old-timers really had in them.

Today the "Mary" is drowsing contentedly beside the Sunset Lumber company's dock in Oakland. She is pulling steam schooner and insolent tugs that snort importantly past the "old windjammer." To sailors, gathered on the dock and regarding the "Mary Winkelman" admiringly, as of old, she does not seem to mind.

Alameda Firemen Are Given Banquet

ALAMEDA, Aug. 2.—Al Reichrath and Bruno Steinmetz were given a banquet at Engine house No. 2 yesterday in honor of their advancement. Reichrath has been promoted first assistant chief and Steinmetz second assistant. Oliver Fisher acted as chef and served a meal that kept all the firemen busy until a late hour. Speeches and toasts were the order of the evening.

MARRIAGE TO BIGAMIST ANNULLED

Legal Wife Testified in Favor of Woman Alleged Duped By Mate Now in Prison, Convicted Under Mann Act

Two women, both of whom, it is alleged, had been wronged by the same man, met today in Superior Judge J. S. Koford's court when Grace Rutherford, 2507 Cole street, Oakland, was granted an annulment of her marriage to James T. Rutherford, now serving sentence at McNeil Island for violation of the Mann Act, growing out of the marriage which was the basis of today's legal action. The other woman, the lawful wife of Rutherford, Mrs. May Fowler Rutherford, 87 Vernon street, Alameda, testified in behalf of the plaintiff in the suit.

From the story told by the two women, it appeared that Mrs. Grace Rutherford was married to Rutherford in New York in June, 1919, and came west with him to make her home here. Shortly after the arrival of the couple Mrs. May Rutherford became suspicious of her husband's actions. She accused him of unfaithfulness and said that he told her he had been granted a divorce from her and in proof of his statements showed her a divorce decree naming Mrs. May Rutherford as defendant.

By a peculiar coincidence Rutherford had been married previously to his marriage with Mrs. May Rutherford and his first wife's given name was May. Mrs. Rutherford the second was still suspicious and, meeting Mrs. Rutherford the third, she compared dates and other data. She then became convinced that she was being duped. She secured the alleged decree and on careful examination found that the dates had been altered and that the decree was that granted to Rutherford from his first wife, she testified.

Upon the joint testimony of the two women, Mrs. Grace Rutherford and Mrs. May Fowler Rutherford, Rutherford was convicted of violating the Mann Act and sentenced to McNeil Island by Federal Judge B. F. Bledsoe on March 25, 1921, at San Diego. The federal action was followed by the filing of the annulment suit by Mrs. Grace Rutherford, which culminated today in the granting of the decree by Judge Koford. Deputy District Attorney Daniel Rygel represented Mrs. Grace Rutherford in today's action.

Four Navy Yards Bid to Build Dredges

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Four navy yards, Mare Island, Puget Sound, New York and Boston, were among the seventeen contestants that submitted bids opened by the war department for the construction of four 1255-cubic yard dredges.

Contracts have not yet been awarded. Among the bids were: Puget Sound, $3,608,313 for four dredges; Mare Island, for two, $1,678,830, against $1,300,150 for the Sun Shipbuilding company of Chester, Pa., which was the lowest bidder.

University Girl Swimmers

Summer session misses demonstrate some of the things they are learning in the aquatic classes under the direction of Mrs. Lyba Sheffield Mackie. The girl on the left, about to take the plunge, is HILDRITH HITCHCOCK. The young woman on the right is GLADYS CAMPBELL, who participated in a "candle swimming race."

Swimming and Dances Are U. C. Physical Exhibitions

BERKELEY, Aug. 3.—A display of what the University of California summer session is doing to improve the health of the modern girl through physical education was conducted this week on the campus as one of the closing events of the present vacation courses.

Bathing girls of the summer classes under the direction of Mrs. Lyba Sheffield Mackie, star swimmer and diver, invaded the men's pool in Strawberry canyon, where they performed for several hundred spectators. Vernis Haddon Wilson, student at the regular college session and assistant in swimming instruction on the campus this summer, gave an exhibition of diving, while Mrs. Mackie also demonstrated various dives and strokes. Others participating included Mary Morgan, Marion Roads, Edith Johnson, Dorothy Jarman, Gladys Campbell and Hildrith Hitchcock.

Following the swimming exhibition Miss Gertrude Colby of Columbia university presented summer pupils in a program of dances in Harmon gymnasium. Last night in the Greek theater Miss Mary Shafter of Oakland directed the presentation of Twynson's "Day Dream" by classes in dramatic expression conducted by her. Men's sports were also demonstrated on California field.

2 HORSE DRAWN VEHICLES CROSS BAY IN JUNE

New evidence of the passing of Dobbin and the departure of the equine vehicle from the transportation horizon is contained in the latest figures compiled by the railroad statisticians.

During the month of June only two horse-drawn vehicles crossed the bay in the vehicular ferry of the Southern Pacific company, as against thousands of gasoline-driven vehicles.

Autoist In Rescue Finds "Victim" Safe

BERKELEY, Aug. 3.—City Engineer C. L. Huggins of Berkeley is marvelling today at the ways of "flivers."

At Oregon street and San Pablo avenue at 5:30 o'clock last night a Buick collided with a roadster. The smaller car overturned, pinning the driver beneath it. Huggins drove to a near-by corner to escape traffic and parked his car. When he rushed hastily over he found that the driver of the "fliver" had righted his car and was in the seat, brushing the dust off his clothes. Huggins sought to obtain the name of the driver but the latter grinned and went on his way. Huggins' car was slightly damaged.

Veterans to Visit State Farm Colony

BERKELEY, Aug. 3.—Trainees of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau at the university will be shown the advantages of farm life on Saturday, when a party of former soldiers will be taken to the state land settlement colony at Delhi by Dr. Elwood Mead, professor and rural institutions at the University of California and head of the state land settlement board.

The party will be shown over the colony, the lands settled and the lands that are to be thrown open to settlement in September.

DEATHS EXCEED BIRTHS.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 3.—For the first time in many years, the stark was beaten out by the grim reaper in the monthly vital statistics of Alameda. The deaths for July, according to the report of the health department, numbered 35. Births totaled 33.

Comfortable vision is vital to health, body and mind.

BIG POULTRY SHOW ASKED TO OAKLAND

Members of California Association Invited to Hold Their Fall Exhibit Here; Raisers Will Hold Rally

According to all indications, Oakland will be selected for the fall show of the California State Poultry Association, which will be the biggest event of its kind ever held in the state. It is announced. It is expected that 350 members of the Rhode Island Red club will join with the California poultry raisers at the show.

The chamber of commerce, co-operating with the local association, has written to each of the members of the western branch of the Rhode Island Red club, asking them to act favorably on the invitation to come to Oakland. The letter of the chamber of commerce, in part, is as follows:

"Oakland's new million dollar municipal auditorium, on the shores of beautiful Lake Merritt, is the most admirably arranged structure of the kind in the West, not excepting Chicago. There are 30,000 square feet of floor space in the main arena, where five thousand birds can be cooped without double decking. The building is splendidly lighted and ventilated. The climate in Oakland is always mild. Due to the very close proximity to San Francisco bay, it never gets hot here and never gets cold. Your birds would be subjected to no exposure. There are in Oakland and its suburbs three hundred and thirty-six thousand people, and the city is just thirty minutes ride from San Francisco, a city of more than one-half million. You will like Oakland and your show in this city should be a record breaker both in the point of exhibits and attendance."

Thefts At School Puzzle To Police

BERKELEY, Aug. 3.—The second of a series of thefts at Berkeley school buildings was reported to the police today with the loss of pipe valued at $100 from the yard of the old Lincoln school building. The pipe had been dragged from the rear of the school yard and loaded into a wagon, according to investigations made by the police. Yesterday school officials reported the theft of bricks from the new high school gymnasium building. According to residents in the vicinity of the school building, the bricks were loaded into an automobile.

HELD AS SPEEDER.

BERKELEY, Aug. 3.—Richard Bonnett, 2220 Union Street, a machinist, was arrested for speeding this morning by Officer C. P. Taylor. He was charged with driving 30 miles per hour on Shattuck avenue in the business district.

Reckless Driving Costs Autoist $25

ALAMEDA, Aug. 3.—Reckless driving cost Cyril Enright $25 in the police court of Judge L. R. Wennmann this morning. Gus Gordon paid $5 for passing a standing street car and Albert Henry paid a similar sum for speeding. R. A. Utley elected to spend an hour in jail in lieu of payment of a fine.

Afflick Given Probation; Auto Riding Banned

With the proviso that during the five-year term of his probation he must, under no circumstances, drive or ride in an automobile or other motor vehicle, Superior Judge G. E. Samuels today granted probation for that period of time to William Afflick, 3642 Grove street, charged with failing to stop and render aid following an automobile accident.

The records of the case as produced in court showed that Afflick ran down and killed Fred Ceyer, aged 70, at Telegraph avenue and Thirty-eighth street last February. Afflick disappeared after the accident, but was arrested later by Sergeant A. D. Smith of the Oakland police department.

Afflick's first plea was not guilty, but later he withdrew this plea and admitting his guilt asked for probation. Upon hearing the conditions of probation Attorney Henry E. Skinner, Afflick's attorney, protested to the court as to the severity of the sentence, but Judge Samuels said that nothing else was possible under the circumstances.

Elks' Grand Lodge Delegate to Speak

Bringing back a vivid picture of the meeting of the grand lodge, thoroughly familiar with the widespread appeal of Elkdom, Kenneth W. Smith, past exalted ruler of the Oakland Lodge, No. 171, and a delegate to the grand lodge which met in Atlantic City last month, will address the members of the local lodge at its meeting tonight. This is the first lodge business session since the vacation period began. Exalted Ruler Charles A. Beardsley will preside.

Smith will tell the plans of the grand lodge for the coming year. He will point out the accomplishments of the order during the past year and he will review in general the work of the convention.

Mrs. Willebrandt to Be Guest of Honor

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States Attorney-General, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon given under the auspices of the Alameda County Women's Johnson-Senator club at Hotel Oakland tomorrow. Annie Louie will give in the campaign Mrs. William Nat Friend will preside as chairman. A large committee of Republican women who are sponsoring the re-election of Senator Johnson will assist in receiving the guests of the day.

Since her arrival in the bay cities Mrs. Willebrandt has been the guest of honor at several Republican rallies in the interests of the Johnson campaign.

Big Dahlia Exhibit To Open August 31

Alameda county dahlia growers will be represented with several hundred choice blossoms in the annual show which will be held at the Palace hotel, San Francisco, August 31 to September 2. Plans are being developed by Carl Salbach, president of the Alameda county society, for participation in the exhibition. It is expected many new varieties will be introduced.

CAR SEIZED IN STREET BY WOMAN

Claimant Charges Auto Was Stolen, Climbs in and Refuses to Surrender It, Despite Police Command

BERKELEY, Aug. 3.—When Mrs. M. E. Dolan, 2639 Twenty-fourth street, San Francisco, saw in Berkeley yesterday an automobile which answered the description of one which she declared had been stolen from her, she climbed into the car and sat there.

The combined efforts of Policeman H. P. Lee and of two men who claimed they were owners of the car, failed to move the woman's mind or body. Finally a rope was secured and the car and woman were towed to police station.

According to Mrs. Dolan's story to the police, she left her car at a Berkeley automobile exchange for sale while she went on a trip east. When she returned, she says she was informed that the car had been stolen. Walking on Haste street yesterday, Mrs. Dolan saw an automobile which she says she recognized as hers.

The automobile is being held at police station pending an investigation as to its ownership.

Neglected Children, Claim in Divorce

In a complaint for divorce from Nellie Victor Durate, filed today, Frank Durate asks the custody of the three minor children and community property amounting to $500.

Durate charges that his wife told him on numerous occasions that she "did not love him" and that she failed to perform her household duties. He also charges that she has failed on numerous occasions to give the proper care of a mother to her two youngest children. He states that her negligence became so noticeable that some time ago the neighbors complained to the police.

The Durates were married in Oakland on May 12, 1909, and separated July 24, 1922.

JACK REEVES WINS EASY DECISION OVER GORDON MCKAY

CONNIE MACK'S ATHLETICS PUT SUDDEN STOP TO WINNING STREAK OF CLIMBING BROWNS

BUD SOULES KNOCKS AL SANGE DOWN AND CAPTURES DECISION

Dundee Whips Frankie McCann; Frankie Murphy Beaten By Walter Caldwell.

By BOB SHAND

Gordon McKay, the northwestern battler, can probably lick a lot of gents with pugilistic ambitions, but the time has long passed when Gordon has any chance of whipping John Reeves, the San Francisco boy. McKay tried last night and tried hard, but he failed to get over with his bush league stuff because Reeves was not only too smart for him, but was also too strong. Grabbing the ropes with one hand and socking with the other used to be a favorite stunt around the bushiest of the bush circuits, but even Frankie Denny and Willie Mehan have discarded the act now. McKay probably thinks the stunt is so old that it is new again, and some day he may fool some youngster with it. Against Reeves last night Gordon looked foolish every time he attempted the trick.

Reeves scampered off with the decision, winning each round by a wide margin, but Jack needs another fight under his belt before he gets back into his best condition. He outboxed McKay in the clinches last night and had the visitor hanging on in every round. Probably McKay figured he was giving away a chunk of weight, or somebody had told him that Reeves was poison when he got in close. Anyhow, McKay clung to his little playmate like a long-lost brother and generally smothered Jack when they came together. Had McKay fought more and held less the bout would have been more interesting. The boy from the northwest is a good two-handed boxer who has had years of experience in the game, and he will probably do better against a less rugged opponent. Last night he was taking no chances.

Jimmy Dundee circled Frankie McCann until the latter was dizzy and then "Lucky" started shooting the old left hook to the body. One round was the same as another. McCann rushed in and Dundee popped him as he was giving away. Dundee took the decision by a mile, but McCann did not lose any friends. Frankie was simply made to order for Dundee and went up against too much class.

Soules and Sange Feud Is Settled

The Bud Soules-Al Sange feud has been settled and Soules is admitted to the local circuit. Last week Bud outpointed the local brawler but did not score any knockdown. In the second round last night Bud outboxed a right hander that caught Sange on the button and Al felt like he had been hit by a sledge hammer. He was badly hurt and nearly got up at the count of eight.

In the third round when the going was tough, Soules came out for the third with the idea that he could knock Al over any time he tried. He started trying at once, but Sange's head had cleared and he fought back like a demon. This stage was a real rally that had the customers on their feet clamoring for a knock-out. Soules took the decision, but Sange got a nice hand for the finish he made after being knocked down.

Edie Kelly and Edie Hoag heavy-weight affair was so terrific it drew a big crowd. Edie Hoag was a funny, dime, who looks and acts like a wrestler, knows nothing about boxing and Hoag was so slow that he could not get out of his own way. To the credit of the boys they tried hard all the time, but they simply did not know how to fight, box or do anything but wrestle.

Frankie Murphy Loses Decision to Caldwell

Frankie Murphy, the Brooklyn middleweight, proved a neat boxer, but he couldn't solve that long left hook of Walter Caldwell and Walter took the decision.

Seller Benny Butler gave Joe Roberts a neat pasting in the first round and scared Joe so badly that he took no chances in the second. Then Rittler started to play and Joe Roberts gained a little confidence. It was a good draw.

Edie Kelly and Edie Moore, put on the most delightful bout of the evening and pleased the customers more than any other pair of scrappers on the card. Kelly won by superior boxing.

Northern Swimming Team Will Compete

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 3.—The northern club's swimming team will participate in the Pacific Northwest Association swimming and diving championships, which will be held at the University of Oregon tomorrow night. The team will be composed of the following: Bus Douglas, Myron Wiley, George Drake, Ted Alonzo, Clive Wheeler, Phil Patterson and Ed Olson. The swimmers will make the trip via Harold Hatten, Ben Lombard, Bob Farwell and Virginia Wilson. Happy Kuehn, world's champion fancy diver, will enter in the springboard and high diving championships.

Rheumatism at 60

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight. The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body, limping and suffering, but forward she goes and the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars. Does anybody care? S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-purifying medicines. It helps blood more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disturbs the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight. Her mother, if she has not out to get a bottle of S.S.S. now, somebody's mother has to be in bed tonight. S.S.S. is sold at drug stores, in two sizes. The large size is the more economical.

Joe Thomas, Daredevil Auto Racer Had Romantic Career

Joe Thomas Has Had Career of True Romance

Will Drive Dusenbergs At Cotati Speedway Next Sunday Afternoon.

By AL G. WANDERL

Among the speed kings who are to appear in the lists at Cotati Sunday, there is none with a more romantic racing career than Joe Thomas, the handsome pilot of the blue Dusenberg No. 5. Joe's car reflects his personality. It looks the part; and on the inside as well as on the outside, it is all racing.

Thomas comes from Seattle. His father is a business man in that city. He has a brother in the automobile business in England and he has two sisters who live at the family home in Seattle. His mother is living.

The first money Thomas ever won as a racing driver was spent by him in buying a new piano for his sister, who was even then a talented musician. Since then Joe has built up a nice bank account and he owns his car, operating his racing plant like a business man operating a store or an office.

It was the intention of the family to have Thomas study medicine. He was to have entered the University of Washington at Seattle to study medicine and later specialize in surgery. Barney Oldfield was responsible for his changing his profession from the M. D. to the S. K.

The Speed King's profession is more thrilling, perhaps, than any other, and that is what has kept Thomas in the ranks of the racing drivers when he could go out into other fields and be equally successful.

During the summer vacation, after finishing high school and waiting to enter the university as a freshman, Joe worked as a demonstrator for the dealer handling the Rex Barney Oldfield came to town with the dirt track show troupe and they wanted some home talent to live up to the events. Joe persuaded his boss to let him strip a two-cylinder race chassis for the event, and he won the race.

That was the end of the medical career and the start of the speed career for Joe. He was soon in the driver's seat on the track and in his spare time was winning out track races and road events all over the northwest.

At Tacoma speedway in 1913, Thomas won his event, a 100-mile light car race, and in the afternoon he rode with Glover E. Ruckstell on the Mercer.

That was July 4, and the following Thanksgiving Day Thomas left his place at Seattle and went to Corona, where he rode with Eddie Pullen on the Mercer that won the race in his first speed training as a driver.

That was a novel mechanic on Eddie O'Donnell's winning Dusenbergs. Thomas career and he left his place with the Rex dealer at Seattle and joined the Pullen-Hansen team to Corona.

After riding with Pullen through 1914 and 1915, Thomas jumped out as a speed king in 1916. It was at Corona on April 8, the race in which "Wild" Rod Burman was killed and Joe Thomas won the race.

COAST FIRE TEAM WINS

The Coast Fire team from Victoria, B. C., won the 100-mile race on the coast. The team was composed of the following: ...

COMMUNITY CLUB DEFEATED

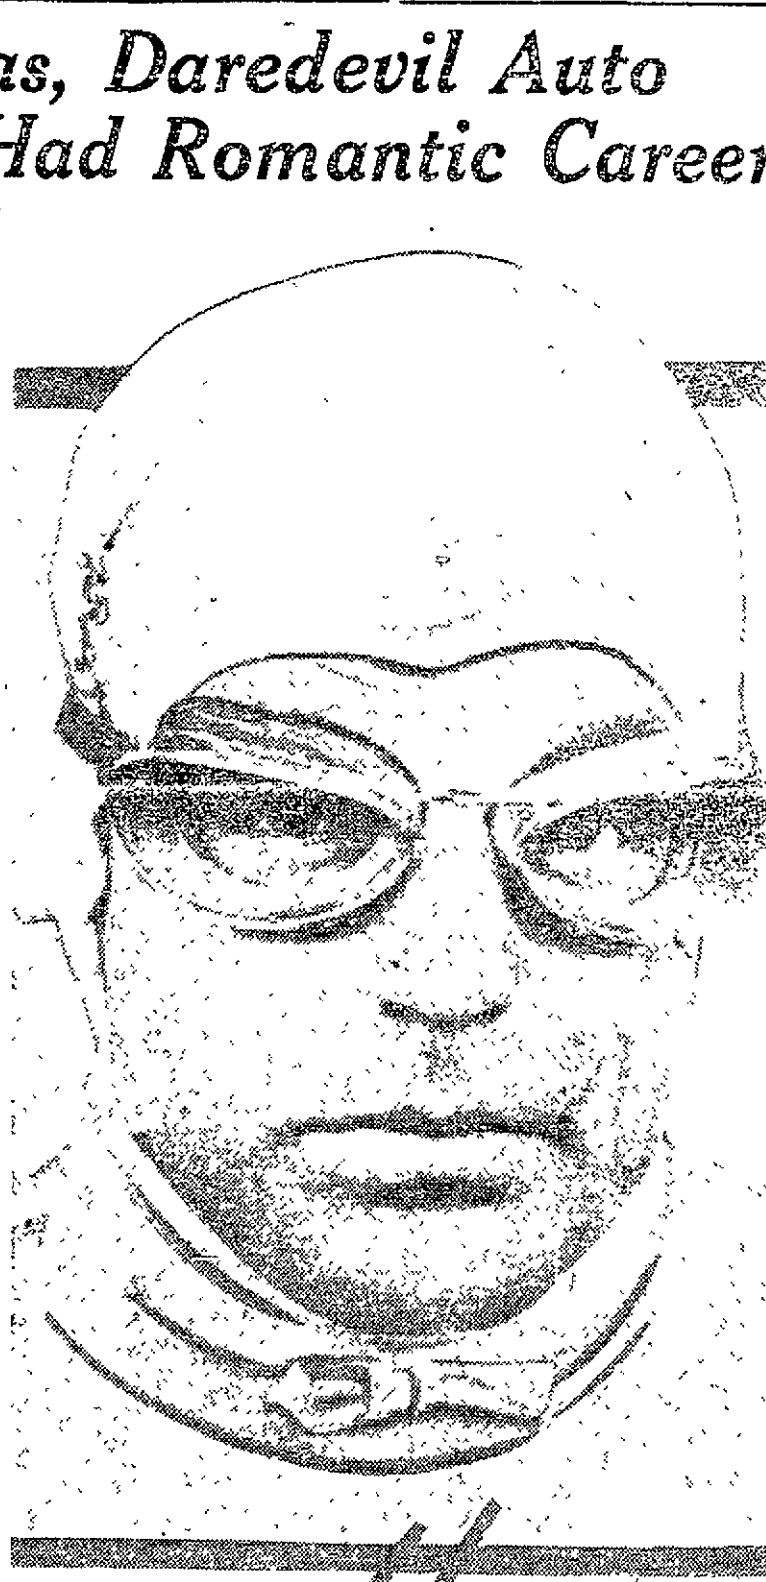

The Altitude Fire Club defeated the Community Club, 5 to 2, in a basketball game. The game was played at the Altitude Fire Club.

ATHENS DEFEATS PERALTA

Athens defeated Peralta in the local basketball game. The game was played at the Athens Club.

MELROSE TRIMS PATINERS

The Juss Hunter Patin team got two bits of the pitching of Fred Mitterwald and the Merchants. The game was played at the Merchants Club.

JOE THOMAS, winner of many thrilling races on the speedway, will be seen in action in his famous Blue Dusenbergs No. 5 on the track at Cotati next Sunday. Thomas is one of the favorites of the large field of entries and chances are good that he will be out in front at the finish.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Wheat dropped today to new low record prices for the 1922 crop. The fall took place in the early dealings and appeared to be due chiefly to pressure of hedging sales and to favorable weather for harvesting. Besides receipts here were large, being estimated at 500 carloads. Opening prices, which ranged from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ ¢ lower, with September \$1.05@1.05 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢ and December \$1.07@1.07 $\frac{1}{2}$ ¢, were followed by a moderate further setback and then a reaction.

Corn and oats were easy with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1/2c lower, September 51 1/2c, the corn market declined a little more and then recovered somewhat. Oats started a shade lower to a like advance, September 33 1/2c.

and held near the initial figure.

'SAVE SEQUOIAS' NIGHT FETE SET FOR AUGUST 10

Movies of Campaign To Be Shown At Gathering in Auditorium.

"Save Oakland's Sequoias Night" will be observed at the Auditorium Theater on Wednesday, August 10. Two thousand feet of motion picture film depicting the events centering about the campaign to save Oakland's sequoias will be shown for the first time. The campaign also has as its aim the purchase of 1547 acres of park lands by bond issue at the primary election on August 29.

Ernest Engler, chairman of the campaign committee paid a tribute to the women of Oakland today for their efforts in behalf of the park bond issue. He said that they are leading the way for the men in the fight to save the redwoods.

Among the women's organizations represented at last night's meeting of the general campaign committee in the Bacon building, were the Sequoia Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, Pioneer Women of Oakland, Appomattox Post, W. R. C., Civic League of Women Voters, Fruitvale Women's Club, Women and Girl Workers of the Civil War, Daughters of Veterans, Ebell Club, Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion and others.

An active sale of memberships in the Save the Sequoias Committee is being carried on. The purchase of one membership entitles the holder to wear the "S. O. S." button.

Co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Exchange, the Rotary Club and other business and professional organizations has been assured the committee.

Plans for the entertainment of thousands of week-end visitors to the redwoods are being made for Saturday and Sunday.

The committee's slogan is "See the Redwoods, then vote for the bonds to buy them August 29." It is suggested that those who visit the redwoods by auto drive along the Skyline Boulevard and its extension, which passes through the forests, both of pines and of redwoods.

Wife Asks Divorce; Charges Pinching

Charging that he told her he did not love her any more and that when he became displeased with her for any reason he would pinch her, Mrs. Jennie Robles today filed suit against Juan Robles for divorce.

Mrs. Robles further charged that her husband would go for long periods without speaking to her, and that she also complained with her for any reason he would pinch her. Mrs. Jennie Robles today filed suit against Juan Robles for divorce.

The Robles were married May 7, 1910, in Los Angeles, and separated September 15, 1921. They have four children. The custody of the children and $100 a month alimony are asked by the plaintiff.

Radio Club Plans For Lecture Series

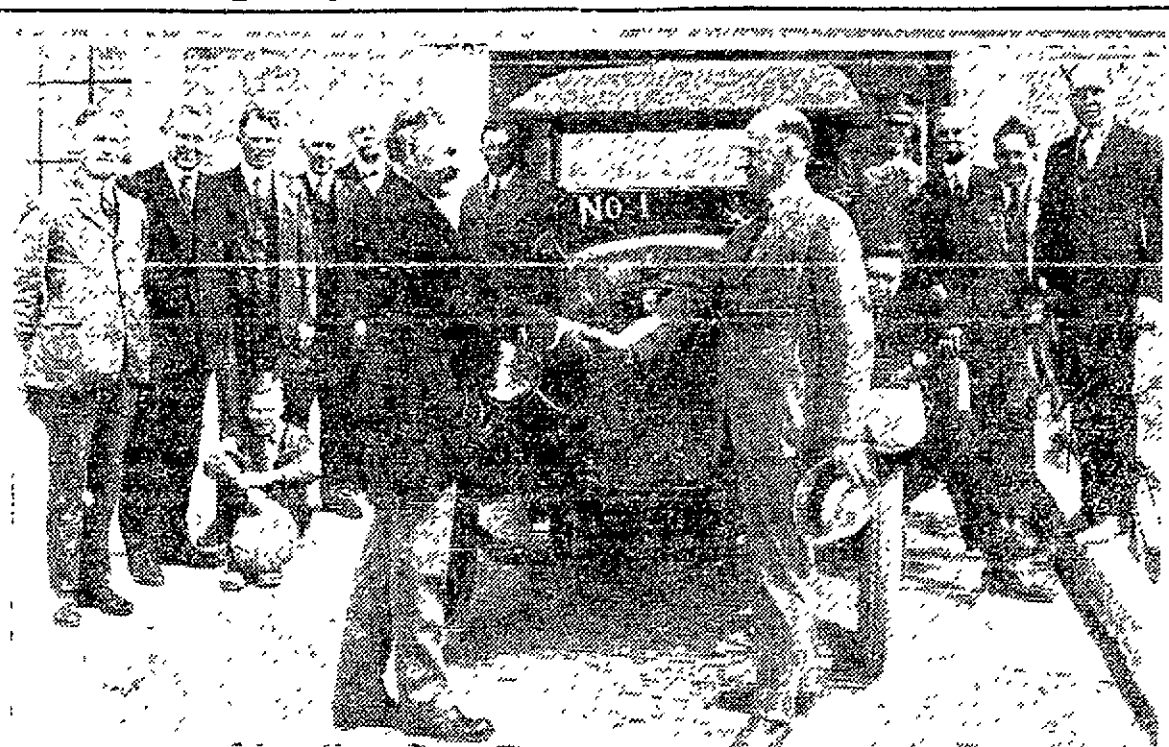

RICHMOND, Aug. 3.—The Richmond Radio Club outlined plans last night by which it will bring lecturers to this city from time to time to expound the latest developments in radio.

A contest to be followed by prizes is to be started soon to stimulate the members of the club show greatest speed and accuracy in receiving.

The club meets on the first and third Wednesday evening of the month, the later meeting being open to the public.

At last night's session Ed Poage was in the chair. J. Geritz and R. B. Doug were appointed a committee on publicity.

First Car Turned Out by Durant Motor Company's New Million-Dollar Factory

An Efficient Amplifier.
(All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)

This is a form of audio frequency amplifier which is gradually coming into favor which is superior to the usual arrangement of detector and two steps, in that input voltages of twice the ordinary value may be employed and handled effectively. The circuit is sometimes called the "push-pull circuit," since it makes use of two tubes in a single step so arranged that the input is divided between them while the outputs are added. The circuit diagram is shown below.

In its application the "push-pull" amplifier employs the usual form of audio frequency amplification in the first step with a special form of amplifying transformer inserted in the plate circuit. This transformer has a primary winding in the plate circuit of the first step of amplification, while the secondary has a middle tap connected to the filaments of two balanced amplifier tubes, while the two outer ends of the secondary winding are connected to the two grids of these tubes through the necessary "C" battery units.

In the plate circuit the arrangement is reversed; the primary of the transformer is tapped at the middle point and connected to the "B" battery while the two other ends of this winding are connected to the plates of the two tubes. The secondary is connected to the loud speaking device which is employed with this instrument.

It is apparent from the above that the input voltage is divided equally between the two tubes connected.

Fifty Cars Per Day Will Be Built During Three Months, Then 200 Each 24 Hours.

In the presence of Mayor John L. Davie, Chief of Police James Drew, City Commissioners Frank Colburn and Albert Carter, and other distinguished guests, car No. 1 was turned out yesterday at the new million dollar factory of the Durant Motor company of California.

Manager George R. Scott took the wheel of the first Durant car as it came off the line. As he emerged from the factory into the final test yard, Mayor John L. Davie congratulated him.

For the time being, owing to a shortage of materials and the slow freight transportation, only fifty cars a day will be built. However, within the next ninety days Manager Scott contemplates turning out 200 cars daily.

With the Durant factory now in operation, Oakland can boast of being the Detroit of the West, the Durant factory being a forerunner for other Durant subsidiaries, including the Star Motor company of California, which is now building on a five-acre tract adjacent to the Durant plant.

R. C. "Chief" Durant, president of the Durant Motor company of California, was not present at the completion of car No. 1, but was represented by C. M. Steves, vice-president and general sales manager, A. L. Warming, comptroller, and George R. Scott, factory manager.

Other visitors of note aside from the Oakland city officials included Judge Wm. J. Gannon, president of the San Leandro Chamber of Commerce, Farley Granger, secretary of that organization; Mayor Allen E. Pelton of San Leandro, and J. H. MacLafferty, candidate for congress. The visitors were shown through the new factory following the witnessing of the first Durant car coming off the line.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

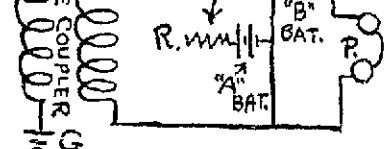

Important: If the members of the OTRC will sign their names to questions as well as their membership numbers it will lighten the work of this department in running over the membership lists when it is necessary to answer a question by mail which is signed only with the membership number. Many questions are answered by private correspondence and it is necessary therefore to have the name and address. When questions and answers are printed in this column the name and address will not be used if such is the wish of the correspondent. The membership number in the OTRC is given. When private answers are desired, such should be stated.

AUTO OWNERS OF OTRC REQUESTED TO REGISTER NOW

Event Planned For Members Which Will Have Thrills of Bandit Hunt.

Member of The TRIBUNE Radio Club who own automobiles and who would be at liberty on Sunday, August 27, for a special event now being planned, and which will be announced later, are requested to notify the radio editor. This information is sought in advance of the announcement of the plans for an event which will be the first of its kind in the annals of radio, and which will be "entertained" by the number of automobiles that will be available for the transportation of radio club members. Those who respond to this inquiry are requested also to state the number of persons that can be comfortably accommodated in their machine.

Final preparations for the event will be discussed at the meeting of The TRIBUNE Radio Club on Friday evening, August 25, at the Oakland City Club. The TRIBUNE Radio Club members who are automobile owners and who would care to take part in an event which will be the first of its kind ever attempted and which will have all the thrills and excitement of a bandit hunt, are invited to participate, providing they can accommodate two or more radio club members. This information should be in the hands of the radio editor within the next ten days.

Baseball "Jinks" to Be Picnic Feature

Baseball, "cats," races and dancing are a few of the attractions that will figure in The TRIBUNE Employees' Ninth Annual Picnic, to be held at Pinetrest, Sunday.

The picnic will open with lunch for all and a pie-eating contest for carrier boys under 15 years of age. From then on until the trains leave for home, at 5 p. m., there will be something doing every minute, according to the arrangements committee, of which William Greenfield is general chairman.

Members of the transportation committee are Les Hicks, A. H. Stone and A. C. Phelps. Henry Miller heads the dance committee, and Beverly Swabey is chairman of the games and races committee.

'KATRINKA' STILL SULKY; 'JIMMIE' DOES HER WORK

Program From KLX Tomorrow Given By the Irvine Sisters of Berkeley.

"Little Jimmie," the substitute broadcasting set for "Powerful Katrinka," again came to the rescue last night and battled for his big sister, who, through no fault of her own, however, was unable to broadcast from KLX, The TRIBUNE's radio station.

"Powerful Katrinka" has on two occasions disappointed the fans by her failure to come on the air. Her real trouble was discovered late yesterday, when it was learned that a piece of apparatus manufactured by a reputable concern did not function properly, due to improper construction. Preston Allen, who is supervising the assembly set to work rebuilding this particular piece of apparatus, and the fans may hear "Powerful Katrinka" any evening.

The program last night was furnished by W. A. Nottbrock and Edward F. Jones, accompanied on the piano by Miss Dorothy Cooley. They sang several solos, which brought comment from scores of radio fans listening in. Nottbrock's voice is one which carries well and the listeners in have no trouble tuning him in.

The entertainment tomorrow evening will be furnished by the Irvine sisters of Berkeley, Miss Ethel and Shirley Irvine, professional whistlers, and graduates of Miss Agnes Woodward's School of Artistic Whistling at Los Angeles.

They were recently on concert tour of the north, and have appeared at many chateaus. They put on a whistling chorus at the Greek theater in Berkeley last year. The Irvine sisters are conceded to be the best artistic whistlers in this section of the country. Tomorrow night they will not only give bird calls, but will offer operatic and popular numbers. There will also be several instrumental numbers or the program.

BRIDE, 17, SLAYS TO DEFEND SELF IN NIGHT ATTACK

Girl Held After Shooting Declares Victim Accosted Her After Pursuit.

STOCKTON, Aug. 3.—Accosted near the Santa Fe tracks last night by Jesse Spartico, Mrs. Antonio Martinez, 17-year-old bride, drew a pistol and shot in the heart the man who she said attempted to assault her.

Spartico died a few moments later at the emergency hospital, and today Mrs. Martinez is in custody while officials are investigating her story.

Due to her age and the fact that she has a one-year-old child, she was placed in the detention home.

According to Mrs. Martinez' story she was returning home last night, passing near the tracks in the southwestern part of the city, when a man jumped from behind a pole and grabbed her. The man she said, was Spartico, who frequently attempted to force his attentions on her.

She said she screamed for help and he put his hand over her mouth. Then the girl drew a pistol which she carried for protection, and placing the muzzle against the man's breast, pulled the trigger.

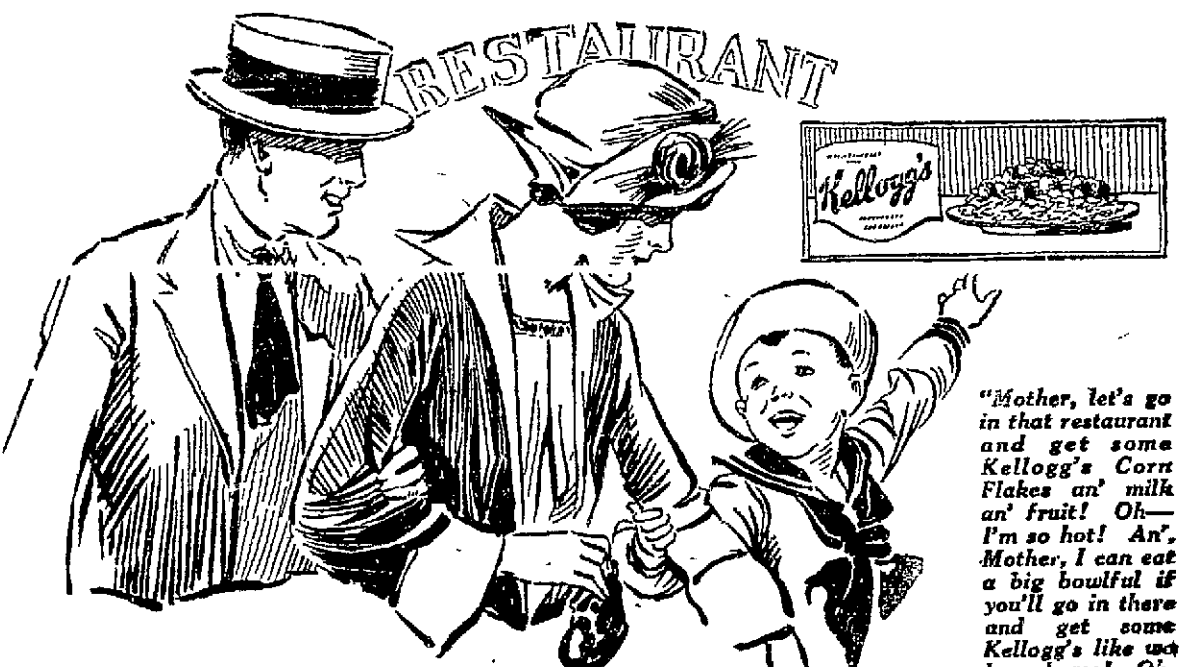

Spartico fell to the ground, and she fled.

Section hands heard the wounded man's moans and notified the police. Officers found him and he was taken to the Emergency hospital, where he died a few minutes later, after having told authorities that Mrs. Martinez fired the shot.

A search was begun for Mrs. Martinez, but she was not located until an early hour this morning, when she was found at the section house where she lives. Her husband works in the country.

According to police, she admitted firing the shot.

"I shot him to save myself and protect my honor," she moaned at the detention home today. "He has been after me for a long time."
